

Plunge Of Bomber Kills 13 At Sandia Atom Secret Base

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—(AP)—A B-29 bomber carried all airmen aboard—believed to be 13—to fiery deaths in a crash last night into Sandia secret weapons base.

Thirteen crew members were listed on the loading report. An air force official warned however the death toll cannot be determined with absolute accuracy until an actual count of bodies is made.

The air force drew a tight security curtain on the tragedy in a remote area of the atomic bomb assembly installation.

Newsmen were barred from entering the area, a spot 7,000 feet high in the Manzano Mountains. The scene is some five miles east of Sandia headquarters and 17 miles east of downtown Albuquerque.

A road block was thrown across the only trail leading into the area, just off transcontinental U. S. Highway 66.

The likelihood any escaped seemed remote. The giant strategic air command plane from Walker Base at Roswell, N. M., plunged to the ground and burned three minutes after it took off from nearby Kirtland Field.

Emphasizing secrecy cloaking the locale, one officer observed: "Not even the president of the United States could get into the place."

Except for describing the big craft's flight as one for training, military authorities declined to disclose its mission.

Ship and crew were attached to the 509th Bomb Wing at Walker Base.

Kirtland Base is part of the Air Force special weapons project, and new weapons are developed at adjoining Sandia Base. Men are trained at Kirtland for Air Force use of these weapons.

Names of crewmen were not made public. The strategic air command said no one above a junior officer was aboard. Identification was proceeding by body. Next of kin were being notified.

The superfortress burned for more than two hours. Flames shooting high in the air were visible from a distance of 15 miles.

EX-SECRETARY DIES—Bainbridge Colby, (above) last Secretary of State under President Woodrow Wilson, died last night at Bemus Point, N. Y. He was 80.

Colby, a political individualist throughout his career, suffered a heart attack two weeks ago.

While Secretary of State, Colby wrote an historical note refusing recognition to the Soviet government of Russia.

The recognition was granted 13 years later, but Colby contended there had been nothing to justify a change.

Colby never did change his opinion about Russia. Until recently, he gave lectures against Communism.

Colby's affiliations with political parties were many and various. He switched party lines possibly more than any other national figure.

Italy Receives U. S. Arms; Red Strike Is Flop

NAPLES, Italy—(AP)—Communist-led trade unionists, prevented by a heavy guard of police and soldiers from hampering the unloading of Italy's first shipment of American arms, called a general strike here today in protest.

But the scheduled eight-hour walkout appeared this morning to have had little effect on the normal life of this historic port in the shadow of Mt. Vesuvius.

The freighter, Exilona, which brought some 500 tons of American-donated Atlantic pact defense arms to Italy yesterday, sailed at dawn for the Allied-controlled port of Trieste.

Communists had threatened mass demonstrations against the arrival of the arms and urged the populace to turn out. But the demonstrations failed to materialize. The Communist-dominated chamber of labor then issued the strike call.

The arms, however, already have been moved off by rail under heavy guard to an army depot without incident. Sentinels were posted along the entire route to prevent sabotage.

Sleet Downs Wires In Houghton Area

HOUGHTON, Mich.—A sleet storm beginning at noon Monday continued through Tuesday and early Wednesday, putting 362 telephones out of commission in Calumet and Houghton and adjacent areas. The most severe damage is north of Hancock, where 18 telephone poles bearing scores of wires broke under the weight of the ice. All telephone lines to Eagle River, Keeweenaw county seat, and additional circuits to Copper Harbor and Eagle Harbor also are out of commission. Three CAA teletype circuits and the Wisconsin Central teletype at the Houghton county airport are down. Repair work has been hampered by high winds which forced workers to suspend work this morning.

Memorial Held For Roosevelt

By ROBERT EUNSON

HYDE PARK, N. Y.—(AP)—Five years have passed since Franklin D. Roosevelt's death, but as many as 3,000 persons daily still visit his grave.

Today—the anniversary of the late president's death—the events of his life will be recalled once more in a special memorial service at the grave.

The Rev. Gordon L. Kidd, rector of St. James Episcopal church here, which Mr. Roosevelt attended during his lifetime, will conduct the service.

The service is open to the public. The small fee ordinarily charged to look through the Roosevelt home and library will not be in effect for the day.

The occasion focused attention on this landscaped burial spot beside the Hudson River—which has drawn an average of half a million visitors a year since the president's death.

"During the tourist season, we often show the Franklin D. Roosevelt national historic site to more than 3,000 in one day," says George A. Palmer, park superintendent.

One Lost In Blast On Norwegian Ship; 50 Others Rescued

NEW YORK.—(AP)—One person was feared lost, but 50 others were reported saved today from a terrific explosion and fire which ravaged a Norwegian ship in mid-Atlantic.

The coast guard said radio messages from an Italian rescue ship reported 40 crewmen and 10 passengers of the blast-rocked freighter Geisha had been picked up from lifeboats.

The first mate of the 5,113-ton Geisha was reported missing.

The rescue ship, the Maria Paolina G., radioed that the Geisha was carrying a cargo of nitrates, a high explosive, when the first in a series of blasts rocked the ship about noon yesterday when she was some 1,442 miles west of New York.

Crewmen and passengers abandoned the vessel and all but the first mate were reported picked up from the lifeboats.

Vandenberg Undergoes Another Operation

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Senator Vandenberg, Republican leader from Michigan, underwent an operation Tuesday for removal of a tumor near his spinal cord.

In a statement, Vandenberg's office said:

"Dr. Robert F. Owen, attending physician, states that Senator Vandenberg's post-operative condition is considered to be satisfactory."

Last October, surgeons removed half of Vandenberg's left lung because of a lesion.

State Budget Is Ridiculed

LANSING.—(AP)—A Republican resolution introduced in the Senate last night implied sarcastically that the Democratic-controlled department of administration wasn't worth its keep.

The resolution, by Senator Charles T. Prescott (R-Prescott) was aimed especially at the department's budget bureau.

Prescott charged the department had submitted to the legislature "an alleged budget resembling a jigsaw puzzle." He said it "apparently had been prepared only to support the tax and spend program of the governor."

Charging the $110,000,000 deficit budget was in such shape that the appropriation committees were delayed in their work, Prescott asked that the Senate finance committee assess the "alleged value" of the work done by the department and give it an appropriation for next year "equal to the value of services rendered."

Prescott earlier failed in an attempt to have the legislature reject the budget and to tell Governor Williams to submit a new one which complied with a law requiring the department to file a balanced budget.

With this flurry, the legislature got down to work after a four-day Easter recess.

Rare $5 Gold Piece Brings $2,300 Cash

NEWARK, N. J.—(AP)—A tiny five-dollar gold piece that lay in a safe deposit box for years was sold here yesterday for $2,300.

F. S. Bernet, Newark coin dealer who negotiated the sale, said it is one of four minted by an obscure private firm, the Massachusetts and California company, in 1849. One of the originals is known to have been destroyed, and the other two have been in the hands of collectors for years.

The fourth coin, sold yesterday, was found five months ago in a safe deposit box here as part of an estate.

Chile President, Foe Of Reds, Welcomed To Washington

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The capital donned its finest today to greet President Gabriel Gonzalez Videla of Chile, an avowed foe of Communism.

President Truman, members of his cabinet, diplomats and other high officials were to meet Gonzalez Videla at the national airport at 3 p. m. (EST).

The department of defense detailed crack troop units and 12 of the fastest U. S. jet planes to take part in the reception. Military band, armored cars and some 2,000 foot soldiers were ordered along the line of march from the airport to historic Pennsylvania avenue.

President Truman had a welcome address prepared, a state dinner scheduled for this evening and an apartment set aside for the visiting president at Blair House.

Mr. Truman sent his personal airplane "The Independence" to Santiago to bring the Chilean executive here.

The American president has been invited to repay Gonzalez Videla's visit later this year, possibly for the opening of Chile's first big steel mill.

Angry Notes Are Exchanged With Moscow

Soviets Shoot Down Unarmed U. S. Plane

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
WASHINGTON.—(AP)—A hot war with Russia as a result of an airplane shooting scrape or any other single incident is regarded by American diplomatic and military authorities as highly unlikely.

At the state department and Pentagon, there was no inclination to treat lightly an official protest from Moscow that an American B-29 type bomber had violated Soviet territory in the Baltic area, fired on Russian fighter planes and been fired upon in return.

But neither was there so much as a suggestion that either country might want to go on from there to knock chips off shoulders.

Protest Answered

U. S. officials indicated yesterday that the truth of the matter may be that an unarmed American Navy patrol plane, missing since Saturday, was shot down by Russian fighters.

The next steps appear to be: A tartly worded rejection of the Russian protest. A complaint of our own that the Soviets evidently shot down an unarmed American plane. A sharpening of tension and a further deterioration of relations, just as there were when Russia blockaded Berlin. Additional exchanges of angry notes.

Yet officials here say we certainly don't want to pick a fight with anyone and they have an idea the Russians want to avoid one within the foreseeable future.

Weak Spots Hunted
They reason that since World War II the Reds have pushed the frontiers of Communism forward here and there without using military force and probably will want to see how far they can go with the process. So they look for continued Russian probing for weak spots, continued pressure short of the use of arms.

If the Russians did knock down the missing U. S. patrol plane, the Moscow protest could be viewed as an application of theory that a good offense is the best defense.

The Soviets protested yesterday that an American four-engine military plane of the B-29 type flew over Latvian territory last Saturday, shot at a flight of Soviet fighter planes and "disappeared" after being fired upon by a Russian fighter.

Foreign Minister Vishinsky called U. S. Ambassador Kirk to the foreign office in Moscow and personally read him the stiffly worded note. It said:

"The Soviet government announces its resolute protest to the government of the United States against this gross violation of the Soviet frontier by an American military plane, which at the same time constitutes an unheard-of violation of the elementary rules of international law."

No Bombers Missing
From the U. S. Air Force and Navy came official denials that any American plane could have made such an attack.

Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, chief

Williams Backs Fund For Roads

LANSING.—(AP)—Governor Williams reiterated formally today his refusal to let the legislature consider increased gasoline and weight taxes for highway improvement.

In a letter replying to the legislature's resolution demanding the right to consider the question, Williams stood fast on his repeated statements that he would allow legislative consideration only for his proposed $18,680,000 general fund grant to highways.

He summed his position up last night in a radio talk.

Republican legislators, supporting increased gasoline and weight taxes, have charged that Williams is violating the spirit of the 1933 good roads constitutional amendment by his plan. That amendment earmarked all highway revenues for highway spending and the Republicans contend that, conversely, no general tax money should be spent on roads.

In his weekly radio address, Williams said the Republican legislatures in the 11 years since the amendment had appropriated $18,450,000 from the general fund for highway purposes.

Williams said "if we were to increase the gas tax now, it would mean that we preferred to charge every motorist 18 to 20 cents tax on each dollar's worth of gas rather than charge the corporations of this state a few cents on each dollar of profit."

The governor seeks to bolster the general fund with a corporation profits tax.

Illinois Republican Dirksen Nominated For U. S. Senator

CHICAGO.—(AP)—Former Rep. Everett M. Dirksen, who retired last year after serving 16 years, won the Republican nomination for U. S. Senator in yesterday's Illinois primary election.

Dirksen, who piled up a big lead over two Chicago candidates, will oppose Scott W. Lucas, President Truman's majority leader in the senate, in the November general election. Lucas, now serving his second term, was renominated without opposition.

Seven of the 23 incumbent congressmen who had opposition in the primary were renominated, as was expected.

Liquor Commission Loses Fight To Fire $10,380 L. A. Kunzig

LANSING.—(AP)—The Democratic-controlled state liquor control commission yesterday lost its supreme court fight for the right to oust Louis A. Kunzig as its business manager.

The court, in a six to two decision, ordered Kunzig reinstated to the $10,380-a-year, non-political job he has held since 1944.

Republicans accused the commission of "political ratting" in trying to abolish Kunzig's position last August. The commission insisted the ouster was for reasons of economy.

Wardens Won't Copy Gestapo

By JAMES A. O CROWE

LANSING.—(AP)—The words "gestapo state" were hurled during a governor's conference seeking means of restoring lost powers to conservation officers yesterday.

State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard said that those proposing a constitutional amendment to permit conservation officers to make searches and seizures without warrants or suspicions would open themselves to the criticism they were advocating, the "gestapo state."

The conference of sportsmen, enforcement officers, state officials and the conservation commission could not agree on the means of restoring the searches and seizures powers taken away last week when the supreme court declared a 1943 law unconstitutional.

"They did agree, however, that the current legislature should be asked to designate conservation officers as peace officers to restore their right to carry guns and to use guns seized from cars in evidence against violators."

The supreme court, in a second decision, ruled conservation officers did not have all the powers of policemen or deputy sheriffs.

Detroit Woman, 58, Gone With $65,000 Investment Money

DETROIT.—(AP)—Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien today ordered a search for a 58-year-old woman who, he says, has disappeared with $65,000 entrusted to her for investment.

O'Brien identified the woman as Mrs. Minnie Spears, sometimes known as Mrs. Minnie Goldberg. He said she has served two prison terms for false pretense and one for mail fraud.

The prosecutor said at least 25 persons are believed to have entrusted money to the woman to invest in real estate. She is missing from her Rochester avenue home here.

Mrs. Spears usually made her contacts in beauty shops, O'Brien said.

Embezzler Sentenced

DETROIT.—(AP)—Eugene Gray, formerly Eugene Zawacki, was sentenced Tuesday to two and a half to ten years in prison on a charge of embezzling $5,871 of Wayne county funds during October, 1947 and August, 1948, while in the employ of the justice of the peace.

April Blizzard Rough At Soo

(By The Associated Press)

A section of northern Michigan emerged shakily today from an extraordinary mid-April snow storm.

For nearly a 24-hour period the Soo district and the Straits of Mackinac battled with cold, high winds, and driving snow.

Overnight the situation assumed critical proportions at Sault Ste. Marie.

State police stopped all outgoing motor traffic from the city because of dangerous driving conditions. A 40-mile wind piled up drifts and reduced visibility.

Temperatures plummeted more than 20 degrees to a low of 12.

That compared to a temperature of 66 on the corresponding date a year ago.

However, the wind at least had its good points. The blow from the northwest was driving packed ice out of the straits.

Marshall Plan Aids Dutch Tulip Growers

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Holland's largest dollar earner, the tulip bulb industry, is expanding under the Marshall Plan.

The Economic Cooperation Administration said today that Holland exported more than $9,000,000 worth of bulbs in 1949, compared to about $7,000,000 in 1948.

The increase was made possible by Marshall Plan aid, ECA said. The agency added that the little Western European nation, which lost about half its shipping tonnage in World War II, has rebuilt its maritime trade to about pre-war level.

Board Studies Stadium Plans

Want Project Done For 1950 Season

The Escanaba board of education in meeting last night discussed plans for the construction of a new fireproof stadium grandstand at the high school athletic field, to replace the wooden structure destroyed by fire last fall.

Additional information is being sought by the board concerning both steel and concrete stadium construction. A decision on the type of construction is to be made soon and the board will then ask for bids, with the expectation being the project will be completed before the start of the 1950 football season.

Information is being supplied to the school board by Perkins and Will, architects and engineers of Chicago, and by the board for its school building program.

Lawrence Perkins of Perkins and Will will be in Escanaba Saturday, and the board is scheduled to meet in special session next Tuesday afternoon for a further discussion of the stadium building project.

Sunt. John A. Lemmer reported to the board that Perkins and Will has supplied information indicating that steel stadium construction is less costly. Figures on steel construction were $50,300 for a stadium seating 3,900 persons, including materials and erection, but not including concrete footing, estimated at an additional $6,000.

The board indicated its interest in a steel stadium because of reportedly lower cost and because it would not necessitate the cost of drawing detailed plans and specifications, such as would be needed in asking bids for a concrete stadium.

To Elect School Trustee In June

The voters of Escanaba will on June 12 elect one member of the Escanaba board of education for a term of four years, with the registration for the election scheduled for June 3 by the school board in meeting last night.

The term of Trustee Charles E. Lewis, president of the board of education, expires June 30.

By action of the board taken last fall, the names of all registered electors in the city of Escanaba have been listed as eligible to vote in the school election. Those citizens not registered for the school election may do so on June 3.

Other business before the board last night included the following:

Received a communication from the state department of public instruction granting approval to Escanaba schools as a tuition district.

Approved the form of the 1950 school census.

Accepted the Mary Ellen French scholarship sponsored by the P. E. O. Sisterhood.

Received a report of the operation of the Escanaba Veterans' Institute from Allan Mathison, director.

School Budget Going Higher

Tentative Figures Approved Here

A tentative 1950-51 budget for the Escanaba city schools, approved last night by the board of education, reveals a total higher than the previous year with the possibility of an $11,796 deficit.

The estimated operating and capital outlay budget for the coming year totals $544,580, compared to $538,569 for the 1949-50 school year.

Estimated income for 1950-51 is $532,784, which would cause an operating deficit of $11,796.

The major portion of the tentative budget, as in previous years, is for teacher salaries.

The total for teacher salaries was increased in the tentative budget by $9,968, which includes the salaries of a new elementary art teacher, a veterans' agricultural teacher, and a full-time teacher of instrumental music. It was pointed out, however, that the school district will receive $16,570 from federal, and $6,500 from state funds in reimbursement for sponsoring veterans' training and other programs.

Other budget increases were accounted for in part by items for the improvement of lighting in the schools, for some new lockers at Senior high, ceiling repairs in Senior high auditorium, and general maintenance of the schools.

The tentative budget approved by the board also reveals proposals for the construction of a grandstand at the athletic field, estimated to cost $60,000; and proposed acquisition of ground for a new Senior high school and an addition to the Franklin school grounds. These items are not included in the operating budget.

Fair Officials Will Meet Here

Charles Figy Guest, Of Board Thursday

Charles Figy, director of agriculture, and George McIntyre, deputy director, will be guests of honor at a meeting of the Upper Peninsula State Fair board Thursday evening at the Delta hotel.

The fair board will meet with Russell Horwood, agricultural supervisor in the Upper Peninsula, county agents, women's home extension leaders, 4-H club leaders, and crop and dairy specialists of Michigan State college to discuss plans for the 1950 U. P. State Fair.

Recommendations of supervisors for improvement of the fair program, facilities, etc., will be received by the fair board at this meeting.

John MacInnes, of Sault Ste. Marie, chairman of the state fair board, will preside at the meeting. A report of present plans for the 1950 fair will be made by Harold Lindsay, secretary-manager.

The meeting was held a year ago under sponsorship of the fair board and the suggestions and recommendations presented by the various departments who attended the meeting were credited by the board for a number of improvements in the operation of the fair last summer.

Approximately 55 persons will attend the dinner meeting. Friday morning the fair board will meet to discuss the recommendations and to incorporate into the fair program the desires of the supervisors, to the extent that it will be possible to do so.

Business Teachers Convene Friday At Marquette

The Northern Business Education association, composed of commercial teachers from Upper Michigan, will hold its second annual convention Friday at Marquette.

Miss Irene Schiefelbein, commercial instructor at Escanaba Senior High school; James Anzalone, accounting instructor at Cloverland Commercial college; Mrs. Blanche Valentine, stenographic and secretarial instructor at the college, and Miss Beatrice Carlson and Harold Kleiman, also of the college faculty, will attend the convention. Gerald Anzalone, commercial instructor at Powers, will attend with the Escanaba group.

A highlight of the conference, to be held at Northern Michigan College of Education, will be addresses by Louis A. Leslie, co-author of a new simplified shorthand text.

Mr. Leslie will speak at the shorthand sessions as well as at the noon luncheon. His topic will be "New Objectives in Teaching Shorthand." Other speakers at the noon luncheon will be Dr. Henry Tape, president of NMCE, and Miss Esther Abbott of Sault Ste. Marie president of the business educators organization.

Conan Fisher of Gladstone, co-ordinator and accounting instructor at the high school, will head a panel discussion on bookkeeping at the convention. Members of the panel will include Earl J. Cousineau of Marquette, John Takala of Iron Mountain, Miss Viola Senical of Marquette and Mrs. Agnes Lindstrom of Stambaugh.

Speakers at section meetings will include J. Milton Gustafson, co-ordinator at NMCE and Arnold Kerpi of Wakefield. Miss Ebba Eckland of Ishpeming, Langford Collins of Sault Ste. Marie, Conan Fisher of Gladstone and Miss Helen Cronin of Champion will serve as section chairmen.

William J. Kehoe, Aged School Man, Dies At Munising

William J. Kehoe, 74, of Trautman, veteran Upper Peninsula educator, who at one time taught at Garden, died Tuesday morning in Braden hospital, Munising. He had been ill four years.

Mr. Kehoe served as school superintendent in Limestone township for 25 years. He also served on the Alger county welfare board, was a member of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau and a director of the Treenary State Bank. He worshipped at St. Rita's church, Treenary.

He was born in Tawas City, Mich., March 28, 1876, and had lived in the Trautman district 40 years. He attended Michigan State Normal college, Ypsilanti and had taught at Fife Lake, Birch and Trautman, as well as Garden.

Surviving are his wife, Ann, two sisters, Miss Mary Kehoe of Flint and Mrs. Anna Oliver of East Tawas; three brothers, John and Louis of Lapeer and Leo of Flint and several nieces and nephews.

Services will be held at 9 Thursday at Sacred Heart church, Rev. Gerald Harrington officiating. The body will remain in the vault at Maple Grove cemetery and burial will take place in Treenary.

Sundew Breaks Green Bay Ice

But Shipping Slow Starting Here

The Coast Guard cutter Sundew today worked back and forth through ice fields in Escanaba harbor and northern Green Bay, while lake carriers awaited word on ice conditions before scheduling any shipping to Escanaba.

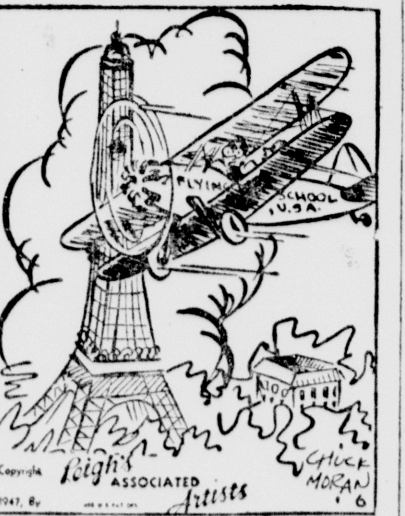

Ice in upper Great Lakes harbors and channels continued to create doubt that shipping will get under way for the next few days. Cold weather, with temperatures hovering below freezing, will further delay the opening of navigation.

Chief Quartermaster Sam Storey of Chicago, and Coast Guardsman Arvid Torstenson of Garden, are scheduled to board the Sundew at Escanaba today. The Sundew arrived here this morning to break channels to the C. & N. W. ore docks.

Lee McMillan, C. & N. W. dock agent, said he does not expect an ore carrier to arrive today. All previous ore boat schedules were cancelled.

Prior to the wartime rush for ore, the average opening date in the C. & N. W. docks was April 15. During the war the harbor was opened as early as March 23. Last year favorable ice conditions also made it possible to begin shipping ore on that date. In 1946 the docks did not begin operating until May 26 because of a strike in the mines.

Four Teachers Get Contracts

Four new teachers to the Escanaba school system had contracts approved for the 1950-51 school year by the board of education in meeting last night.

The teachers are as follows:

Miss Mary Ann Kreuter of West Bend, Wis., graduate of Milwaukee State Teachers College, who will teach in the elementary department.

Miss Joan Tyack, Wakefield, graduate of Michigan State College, now teaching in Menominee, who will teach art in the grades in Escanaba.

Chester Kleeman, Watertown, Wis., now teaching in Milwaukee, graduate of Milwaukee State Teachers College, who will teach in Escanaba Junior high school.

Robert A. Eul, Milwaukee, graduate of Milwaukee State Teachers College, who will teach in Escanaba Junior high school.

The teachers' basic salary schedule for Escanaba city schools is unchanged from last year. The schedule provides for minimum and maximum salaries, based on training and experience.

The school calendar for the coming school year also was approved by the board of education as follows:

August 28, 1950, teachers report.
August 29, September 1, 1950, pre-school conference.
September 5, 1950, classes begin.

October 5, 6 1950, M. E. A. Conference, Escanaba.

November 29, 30 and December 1, 1950, Thanksgiving vacation.

December 21, 1950, Christmas vacation begins.

January 3, 1951, school re-opens.

January 19, 1951, first semester closes.

March 17, 1951, Easter vacation begins.

March 27, 1951, school re-opens.

May 30, 1951, Memorial Day.

June 7, 1951, last day of classes and commencement.

June 8, 1951, final reports for teachers.

Jaycees Consider Fourth Of July Activities Here

General plans for the Fourth of July observance in Escanaba were considered at the regular monthly meeting of the Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce last night.

Escanaba Jaycees are planning to make this year's observance an even larger event than the one last year. A kiddie parade is planned, as well as the junior olympics. In addition, there will be band performances, and special events such as motor boat races and swimming events.

Charles Larson, sports editor of the Escanaba Daily Press, was guest speaker at the meeting last night. He discussed improved publicity for Escanaba through contacts with travel editors of Lower Michigan newspapers and also told of his experiences as a staff member of the Chicago Tribune.

Nomination of officers was held last night. Election will take place at the next regular meeting.

Cancer Drive Opens April 15

Quota For Delta County Is $3,507

Official opening of the Delta county cancer drive is scheduled for Saturday, April 15, it was announced today by Attorney James Fitzharris, county chairman. The opening will coincide with the observance of Farmers' Day in Escanaba.

A tag day will be held throughout the opening day in the downtown business district offering everyone an opportunity to contribute to the fund.

Beginning Monday block workers appointed by precinct leaders will begin a house to house canvass. The canvass is under the supervision of city and township chairmen.

The cancer drive goal this year is $3,507.

Area Institute Planned Friday

Teachers To Meet At Gladstone

Teachers of Delta County and neighboring areas will meet with ten University of Michigan consultants for an area institute Friday evening at Gladstone high school.

Dr. Lawrence E. Vredevoe, director of the U. of M. Bureau of School services, will be in charge. Consultants will represent the fields of administration, guidance, testing, English, languages, mathematics, science, journalism, library, secondary and elementary curriculum, and audio-visual education.

Following a general meeting in the school auditorium, at 7 p. m., teachers will meet in sections with the various consultants.

Consultants who will be present are Kent W. Leach, assistant director of the bureau of school services; Dr. Fred Stephenson, Fred Miller, Dr. A. K. Stevens, assistant professor in the department of English; Dean C. Baker of the journalism department, Miss Clover Flanders, director of the U. of M. library extension department; Miss Edna Smith, critic teacher; Prof. William J. Merhab of the school of education and Helge Hansen, assistant director of the audio-visual education section.

Sen. Ellsworth's Support Of Bridge Project Is Welcomed

SEN. WILLIAM ELLSWORTH'S announcement that he is staunchly in support of the citizens' committee bill (Senate Bill No. 8) for creation of the Mackinac straits bridge authority clarifies Mr. Ellsworth's position to the satisfaction of the Upper Peninsula residents who want the bridge built.

The introduction in the senate of a second bill, Senate Bill No. 18, by Ellsworth conveyed the impression that the St. Ignace senator may be working at cross purposes with the citizens committee. He has explained that he is a vigorous supporter of the citizens' committee bill and that he introduced the second bill only to force action on the bridge authority proposal. While we doubt the wisdom of this legislative maneuvering which apparently serves only to confuse the issue, we are happy that the St. Ignace senator has clarified his position.

The political issues that have developed on the straits bridge authority bill are most unfortunate. The citizens committee is a non-partisan group, interested only in breaking the bottleneck that separates the two peninsulas of Michigan. The bill drafted by the committee is non-partisan in nature.

The bill certainly deserves a public hearing. Amendments to meet the desires of the legislators may be in order, but action to create the bridge authority is urgent at the special session of the legislature. Unfortunately the Upper Peninsula is not represented on the senate state affairs committee. The chairman, William C. Vandenberg of Holland, appears to be extremely cool to the bridge proposal, even to the appointment of a commission to study the project and to ascertain feasibility and construction costs. The immediate objective is to build a fire under the committee and to get some action on the bill to create the state bridge authority.

Sen. Ellsworth has reported that he is arranging a meeting of legislative committees with W. S. Woodfill, of Mackinac Island, chairman of the citizens committee. From this conference may come suggestions for constructive action in the legislative session.

Confident Capers In Yugoslavia

SPREAD across our newspapers recently was a picture of Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia doing an election victory jig.

It is worth noting that this picture was taken BEFORE his country's balloting for a national parliament was completed.

Only in totalitarian nations like those behind the Iron Curtain is it possible to celebrate electoral triumphs before they are official. And it's not because anybody peeks at the ballots in advance, either.

That isn't necessary. In fact, neither are the ballots. For all practical purposes Tito could have done his jig a month ago.

Prescribed Russian Style Programming

WHEN Valentin Gubitchev, convicted Russian spy, took off for home on the Polish liner Batory, he carried an American television set with him.

Gubitchev insists he'll have plenty of use for the thing, reminding us that the Russians "invented television."

But we suspect that he won't have much time for the Moscow version of "Kukla, Fran and Ollie," if there is one. More likely he'll be listening to Molotov, Malenkov and Stalin, who'll be asking him how come he happened to get caught.

And in the end Comrade Gubitchev may turn out to be the pioneer television user in far-away Siberia. We can see the headline now: "Video in Verkhoyansk."

Other Editorial Comments

EVERY MAN A SPY (Milwaukee Journal)

Prevda, Communist party paper in Moscow, charged the other day that Catholic priests were "spying" for the United States in countries behind the iron curtain.

It's the same old charge that the Soviet makes against newspaper reporters, diplomatic corps employees, businessmen and even visitors to Russia or her satellites.

For once Russia has a logical talking point. A spy is one who obtains "secrets" in one nation for use against that nation. The "secret" of the Communist world—a most poorly kept "secret"—is that Stalin has created a police state, built on terror, partly manned by slaves. The Russian sphere presents the antithesis of the values of western civilization—especially freedom and economic well-being.

Truth is the greatest danger to Stalin's world. Visitors see truth. When they leave Russia or the satellites, the truth they report helps break down the propaganda that Communist states are Edens. Therefore visitors—priests, newspaper reporters or what have you—are unavoidably learning "secrets" inimical to the Russian way. Therefore they are "spies."

Russia is realistic and knows that those "spies" are more dangerous to the Communist world than the more traditional spies are to American democracy.

ONE PLACE FOR ECONOMY (Milwaukee Sentinel)

A well managed private business employs one personnel officer for every 200 to 250 employees.

The Hoover commission found that the federal government has one personnel officer for every 73 employees. In some departments the ratio is as low as one to 38. There's room for economy.

It's always easier to think of something to do after it is too late to do it.

Rich Man

By Gordon Martin

He's a man without a fortune, doesn't own a share of stock, has a little life insurance that at times he's got to huck. Only gets a modest paycheck, doesn't have much time to play, seeks the company of neighbors when he ends a weary day. Some would say he's mighty poor because he gets no dividends, but no matter what his bank account, he sure is rich in friends.

He's a man who has a tiny home, he knows no swanky club, can't afford the fancy food but buys just ordinary grub. Can't go splurge on flashy clothing, wears a shirt for quite a while, but he's always got a friendly word and says it with a smile. Wouldn't snoot another livin' soul and never condescends—sure, he's just a chap who's very poor, but still he's rich in friends.

He's a man who has to ride the bus, no shiny motor car, but he's never heard complainin', takes conditions as they are. Loves the children all around him, doesn't matter who their folks, lends a hand to lonesome elders, always tellin' sunny jokes. Sure, he's just a guy who's poor in purse and scripps instead of spends, but he's richer than a millionaire because he's rich in friends.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Five years ago today, Harry Truman stood uneasily in the cabinet room of the White House taking the oath as president of the United States. He was a humble man, imploring the Lord for guidance and the American people for help.

A lot has changed since then. The wars then raging on two continents are officially ended, though they continue unofficially without loss of life. The men who saw Harry Truman take the oath and who helped him during those first trying days are largely gone now. Bob Hannegan, who put his friend in the White House almost with his own bare hands, is dead, saddened by the fact that the president had turned his back.

Three secretaries of state have come and gone—Ed Stettinius, now dead; Jimmy Byrnes, now bitter; and George Marshall, now retired.

Many of the president's close friends in the senate have disappeared from his table, and the coterie surrounding Truman has grown smaller and smaller. The palace guard is as tight as a drum.

JEALOUS PALACE GUARD

It will be for history to evaluate the wisdom of Truman's policies and the efficacy with which they were carried out. It is too early to judge them. But one factor now moulding the results which historians later must evaluate is the White House circle and its jealousy toward the outside world.

This zeal to knock off any man who even remotely resembles a rival to the president is the most important fact in the political life of the nation today.

It has been responsible for alienation of one of the strongest members of the Truman cabinet, Former Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson, now senator from New Mexico. And it is causing friction between the president and the vice president today.

Those who do not know the little band of zealots around Truman would scarcely believe it, but they have convinced themselves and him that Alben Barkley at the age of 72 is a candidate for president. Furthermore, they have cooked up a tortured theory that Barkley took a young bride in order to demonstrate to the world that he was hale, hearty and able to run. They also suspect that Barkley's many speaking engagements are to build him up for 1952.

The broad-gauged Barkley, though well aware of this coolness, has chosen to ignore it. On the surface, his relations with the White House remain the same. But the old cordiality, the personal warmth between him and Truman is no more.

WILL TRUMAN RUN AGAIN?

It is not known, even by Truman's intimates, whether he intends to run in 1952. But it is definitely known that the palace guard is itching to have him run. Apparently the lush life of Key West and the White House is something they hate to contemplate losing.

This was why one year ago, the White House was anxious to have Paul Hoffman bow out as EC Administrator. He was becoming too popular, was feared as a Republican candidate. Today he is not considered so popular and is being urged to stay on. This was also why a weak Democratic candidate was left in the race against Senator Taft in Ohio. For Taft would be an easier presidential candidate to defeat than Eisenhower; but he would have no chance of the nomination if defeated in Ohio.

Jealousy is carried to such extremes that ex-White House Counselor Clark Clifford recently cancelled an engagement his wife had made with the Clinton Anderson family to go to the cherry blossom festival together. The Anderson and Clifford daughters had once been cherry blossom queens, but Clifford feared it would put him in wrong at the White House to be seen with the ex-secretary of agriculture, who committed the grave sin of being willing to run for vice-president.

A FINE POINT OF GRAMMAR

Q. My English class and I would be grateful for one of your fine discussions of a point of grammar we are not sure of. Which tense is correct in such sentences as: He said that he (would? will?) let us know his decision soon?

A. It is a matter of logic, rather than of grammar, as is the case with most of the construction which perplex us. We should learn to overcome our awe of the bugaboo which dwells in textbooks. In English, a little logic is often worth more than a shelfful of grammars.

For example, in the foregoing sentence, we are confused by the past tense "he said," and feel that the remainder of the sentence should therefore be in the past tense. But let us not quote him and make the simple statement thus: He will let us know his decision soon. Or, let us rearrange the sentence thus: He will let us know his decision soon, he said.

Now for an easy to understand rule: Statements that are still true at the time of writing or speaking are in the present tense.

Device: Eliminate "He said," or place it elsewhere than at the beginning of the sentence. If what he said makes sense in the present tense, then the past tense obviously is incorrect. Let us try our device on a few items from the news.

"He said this government would consult with other American republics."

Device: This government will consult with other American republics, he said. In other words, his statement amounts to a promise that still holds good; therefore, "will consult" is correct.

"He said that the city was still in ruins."

Device: The city still is in ruins, he said. "He learned that Boston is the capital of Massachusetts."

Correct: Boston still is the capital city.

Some Old Pals Drop In

Fate Has Given Month Of April Dominant Role In History Of U.S.

By HERBERT HOLLANDER

Is April America's most fateful month?

April 6 was the anniversary of U. S. entry into World War I in 1917. The month has had a major role in shaping this country's destinies.

And it is noteworthy that no month brought more momentous events throughout World War II. Only April of 1945 need be recalled to make that point clear—the capture of dozens of key German cities, the shooting of Mussolini, the death of Hitler in the ruins of Berlin, prelude to surrender.

Five major U. S. conflicts began in April. The Revolution, which gave America its freedom and independence; as well as the Mexican, Civil, Spanish-American, and first World wars all started during this month. More over, a host of other happenings of high importance, quite aside from those of a warlike nature, add still more to April's stature in the long and memorable story of the nation's growth to greatness.

Death of Franklin

When Congress declared war on April 6, 1917, it followed a precedent dating back to those early days when the colonies first struck for their independence. April 19, 1775, when the Battle of Lexington and Concord was fought, is one of the most glorious days in the country's history.

The nation was plunged into deep mourning on April 17, 1790, when the death of Benjamin Franklin was announced. The fledgling United States regarded the loss as almost irreparable. The elder statesman of the Revolution, it is unlikely that the colonies would have been so successful without his advice and counsel, his superhuman efforts at home and abroad. Some have gone so far as to say that without Franklin the Revolution would have failed.

Of monumental importance in the development of America was the Louisiana Purchase, effected by Jefferson on April 30, 1803. Although the territory was claimed by several foreign nations, the French claim was by far the best, and it was Napoleon with whom Jefferson negotiated. He finally closed the deal which added millions of square miles to the United States and began the westward trek that in succeeding generations was to open up the entire region to the Pacific.

On April 4, 1841, came the first event of its kind which the country had faced, namely, the death of a president of the United States while in office. General William Henry Harrison, 68 years old when he took office, died just a month after his inauguration.

War With Mexico

When April, 1846, rolled around, Mars stepped into the picture in the person of President Polk. On the twenty-fourth day of the month he sent a message to Congress, declaring that a state of war existed between the United States and Mexico. Direct cause of the war was the capture of an American scouting party in the vicinity of Brownsville, Texas. The indirect cause was more complex, with many Americans then and now convinced the whole business reflects no great credit upon this country.

At any rate, when April turned up on the calendar in 1846, Mr. Polk had his war. And in April of the next year, General Scott inflicted a crushing defeat upon the Mexicans at Sierra Gorda.

Fort Sumter was fired upon April 13, 1861, and for all practical purposes the fratricidal war was on. Six days later the Baltimore riots occurred when the Sixth Massachusetts was mobbed on its way through the streets. Thus the first blood of the war was shed on April 19, anniversary of the Battle of Lexington and Concord.

In April, 1862, an important step was taken toward emancipation when slavery was abolished in the District of Columbia. On the sixth and seventh days of that month, in the same year, the Confederacy suffered a heavy loss in the death of General Albert Sidney Johnston at Shiloh, scene of one of the most bitterly contested battles of the war. And in the following April the great "Stonewall" Jackson was mortally wounded by his own men at Chancellorsville. April also saw the signing of a treaty by Great Britain and the United States for the suppression of the slave trade.

Death of Lincoln

Almost every day in April, 1865, witnessed events of world importance. Five Forks was fought; Richmond and Petersburg were occupied; and on April 9, Grant and Lee met in a small dwelling at Appomattox Court House. In Washington on April 9, Abraham Lincoln heard the news of Appomattox with joy tempered by the knowledge that his gravest responsibilities, those of reconstruction, still were to be met.

Five days later, April 14, Lincoln lay in the little house in Tenth street, Washington, D. C., across from Ford Theater, breathing his last. William H. Seward, Secretary of State, likewise the victim of an assassination plot, was gravely wounded but recovered.

This April witnessed the death of John Wilkes Booth; the beginning of countless legends purporting to prove that he did not die in that blazing barn. But there is no reason to disbelieve that Booth was killed on April 26 by Sergeant Boston Corbett.

Although to all intents and purposes the war was over in April, 1865, it was not until April 3, 1866, that it was declared officially to be at an end.

Engrossed as it was in the problem of reconstruction, the administration was not unmindful of the development of the nation in other directions, and on April 9, 1867, the purchase of Alaska for the sum of $7,000,000 was approved. There was considerable opposition to the purchase of "Russian America," many holding that the land was worthless. Indeed, it was known as "Seward's Folly," a gold takers alone, however, Alaska has paid its way many times over, not to mention the importance of its great fisheries, its vast timber lands, and its present incalculable strategic value.

Search And Seizure

Dear Editor:

More power to the Escanaba Press in backing up the supreme court decision on the Search and seizure law!

Your editorial of April 5th hit the nail on the head with every shot.

The writer loves his hunting and fishing most ardently but does not believe in tearing down the Constitution of the U. S. A. to protect sports fields.

Michigan, one of the top leaders of the forty-eight states in deer and fish productivity and license sales, is proof that Michigan did not need this dangerous law.

Beaver Traps Robbed

Dear Editor:

The trapping season on beaver is over. On Saturday I picked up my traps. In place of one of my traps was a pelted beaver carcass. (A neat job of pelting, too.) Prior to that, well I guess I didn't need to look after my traps at all. Other trappers did it for me every time. It makes an honest guy's blood boil to have this happen over and over again in every kind of trapping. Maybe after awhile, I'll have to start robbing, too, to even up for my losses. Why we trappers can't play it straight with one another is beyond me but I guess there will always be "rotters" to spoil it for us.

I don't suppose these fellows know there is such a day as "Good Friday" or "Easter."

"Disgusted."

Thoughts

Today the journey is ended, I have worked out the mandates of fate:

Naked alone, undefeated I knock at the Uttermost Gate.

Behind is life and its longing. Its trial, its trouble, its sorrow. Beyond is the Infinite Morning Of a day without a tomorrow.

—Wenonah Stevens Abbott.

I should say sincerity, a deep, great, genuine sincerity, is the first characteristic of all men in any way heroic.—Carlyle.

A sea before The Throne is spread;— Its pure still glass Pictures all earth-scenes as they pass.

We, on its shore, Share, in the bosom of our rest, God's knowledge, and are blest.—Cardinal Newman.

And when these days are explored, it shall be, that upon the eighth day, and so forward, the priests shall make your burnt offerings upon the altar, and your peace offerings; and I will accept you, saith the Lord God.—Ezekiel

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

FREEDOM OF THOUGHT—At a recent meeting of the Escanaba Rotary club three young women, students of Escanaba senior high school speech department, presented a program that (in part at least) may have caused the lift of an ultra-conservative eyebrow.

One of the students logically defended the American Euphonia society's principle that in cases of incurable cancer, and at the request of the pain-wracked patient and following a review of the case by a commission of doctors, the patient could be legally put out of his suffering.

"It is not a choice between life and death—but between two forms of death: One slow and filled with suffering, the other peaceful and quiet."

The second student made a passionately idealistic plea for world disarmament to end the "Race to Destruction." The people of Russia are no more desirous of death for themselves and their families, for the destruction of their homes and industries, than are we in the United States, she said.

Leaders of government in this country and in Russia speak only of force and preparedness—both at high cost. The money thus used might better go to peaceful aims of benefit to the people.

The third student presented a dramatic declamation, one of the more emotional scenes from Bronte's novel, "Jane Eyre."

FREEDOM OF SPEECH—The topics for debate in schools usually are listed by the Michigan High School Forensic association. All of the topics are controversial. The students select the topic that most interests them and prepare themselves to debate that topic, pro and con.

In the preparation of an oratorical declamation, the student's paper is submitted to the district (Upper Peninsula) Forensic association where it is analyzed for its content. When the student appears in competition he is judged on the effectiveness (or lack of it) in presentation.

The student is encouraged to be original, to do his own thinking, to draw his own conclusions. He is taught to be familiar with both sides of a question and to argue both sides.

What he presents is an expression of his point of view and it should be heard with that in mind. As the student has freedom of thought in arriving at his conclusion, so also does he have freedom of speech in presenting it. No one tells him what to say or how to say it.

This may come as a shock to minds that have too long been closed to any but the conservative and accepted viewpoint.

Not many years ago Escanaba high school students debated the subject of government ownership of railroads—a time-honored controversial topic. The affirmative expressions, advocating public ownership of the railroads, created mild consternation among some older heads in this railroad community.

AS YOU LIKE IT—Freedom of thought and freedom of speech are basic to good citizenship in a democracy such as ours, where the government is only as strong as the character of its people.

Certainly the schools are not the place to begin the totalitarian dictum of coercion of thought and of speech for the aggrandizement of the state.

Personally, the school system that fails to stimulate original thinking, to encourage the expression of original thought, is in our opinion a failure.

American democracy—and possibly world civilization—will strengthen and grow or weaken and fall according to the courage or cowardice of those youngsters now in our schools.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

London.—The Swedish news agency reported today the King Haakon and Crown Prince Olav fled from the town of Nyberund, near the Norwegian-Swedish frontier, just three minutes before an attack by German bombers.

Washington.—Senator Bridges said today that Communists had violated the law "on every hand" but had not been sent to jail because of failure of Attorney General Jackson to prosecute.

Escanaba.—Police hauled in eight transient poison brew specialist yesterday, confiscated an assortment of bottles of bay rum and rubbing alcohol, and figured that spring mist was just around the corner.

Escanaba.—Sale of the Delta Brewing company in Escanaba to Jack Kader of Milwaukee was approved yesterday by Referee in Bankruptcy George C. Quinnell. The property was sold for $26,800.

Manistique.—The European war was brought close to home this week for Rev. Otto Steen of Manistique, with the spread of hostilities to Norway. Rev. Steen served in the Norwegian navy in the last war.

20 YEARS AGO

Washington.—Senator Vandenberg told President Hoover today that "there will be no rivers and harbors legislation if the Erie canal project is kept in the rivers and harbors bill." He said it would throttle the St. Lawrence river waterway scheme.

Manistique.—Winter lingers in the lap of spring in Manistique harbor. The ice in the harbor is still 18 inches in thickness.

Escanaba.—Photographs of the newly discovered ninth planet were taken last week by John Novack, well known local astronomer. The planet is 4½ billion miles away.

Escanaba.—Appointment of Emmett Meehan to gather data for the census of distribution in Escanaba has been announced by Ben Gero of Manistique.

We wonder—do gangsters refer to their descendants as off-shoots?

The fellow who is a stickler for law is usually a trial to his neighbors.

Talkie Magazine Helps Fill Gap For Blind People

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
(FOR HAL BOYLE)

NEW YORK—Between braille, record players and radios, a lot has been done to keep the blind informed and up to date—but there was one big gap unfilled.

That was the reasoning of young David Margolis, a young Brooklyn lawyer who abandoned the bar to do what he could to help the blind. So Margolis, who lost his own sight during an illness 12 years ago, dreamed up a radio program.

Radio News Welcomed

Then he took the harness of his gentle shepherd dog Cindy, came to Manhattan and sold his idea on the spot. A couple of weeks later, the premiere of the show on a New York independent station jammed the switchboard with enthusiastic telephone calls.

It's called "The Talking Magazine," a weekly half-hour digest of current periodical articles and a report on matters usually overlooked by news broadcasters and commentators but still of interest.

"Radio has been a wonderful thing for the blind," Margolis says, "because it's given us news, some interpretation and a sense that we can keep up with what's going on without having someone read to us. There are braille and talking books—not enough, but some. We can hear radio music and plays. But there's no way we can keep up with what's going on in the magazines unless some person reads it to us."

Showmanship Added

Margolis brought his brain child to station WNEW. Ted Cott, production executive, added some showman's flourishes. His main contributions were a decision to enlist Broadway stars as the "readers" and to put the show on tape—transcribe it for broadcast later—after using the stars in their leisure time.

"My idea was that theatrical names would make the show more attractive," Cott said, "and besides, theater people are trained readers, so we killed two birds with one stone."

He made telephone calls to theater great up and down Broadway and got 100 per cent cooperation. The show started out late in March with Patricia Morison of "Kiss Me Kate" and "Death of a Salesman's" Mildred Dunnock, heading a star cast of readers. The next week it was Frederic March and other big names.

John Grogan, a WNEW producer, and Margolis do most of the editorial work—selection of material and supervision of the delicate job of shaving a 2,500-word treatise down to a maximum of 600 words.

Idea Is Success

In the first few weeks, thousands of blind—and sighted—listeners were treated to a wide variety of subjects, ranging from a bit of Eleanor Roosevelt to state-of-the-art news by a number of columnists. Just about everything goes into the act—fashion notes, humor, oddities in the news and just plain interesting feature.

Margolis, associated with the industrial home for the blind of Brooklyn, says the response has been greater than he expected.

"After the first broadcast we had about 150 telephone calls about it here at the home," he said, "and lots more at the station. Blind people don't write letters very often—but we got a lot of fan mail from sighted people who also enjoy the program."

Leading Lawyer Dies Without Leaving Will

SCRANTON, Pa., (AP)—One of Pennsylvania's foremost lawyers, Chief Justice George W. Maxey of the state supreme court, died without leaving a will.

This was disclosed here in a petition filed by the widow for letters of administration in the estate, which she estimated at $20,000 in personal property.

Damage Is Done To U. S. Senate

McCarthy Attacks Are Harmful

By MARQUIS CHILDS
WASHINGTON — The damage suffered by individuals who fall victim to reckless and irresponsible behavior done under the cloak of congressional immunity is immediately apparent. The damage to our institutions is not so apparent.

CHILDS

But it is nonetheless real and it raises some disturbing questions about what has been happening during recent weeks as a result of Senator McCarthy's indiscriminate charges. Several of the injured individuals have challenged the senator to say without the protection of his congressional immunity what he has said under that privilege. While seeming to meet this challenge, he has in fact evaded it.

They would sue him for libel or slander if he made the same charge without immunity. It is fairly clear that such a suit could be sustained if witnesses could be found who would swear that Senator McCarthy repeated privately off the floor what he had said under privilege.

I had an experience which throws some light on this. Former Senator Joseph Guffey of Pennsylvania charged on the floor of the senate that I had been paid by a large oil company for writing a story about oil deals in Mexico involving Guffey and John L. Lewis. I learned he had said the same thing to reporters off the floor and I brought suit for slander. After a number of depositions had been taken, Guffey officially apologized on the senate floor. There was no claim of immunity.

No one can question the right of a legislator to say what he pleases with immunity from prosecution for his remarks. This goes back to the mists of parliamentary history and it has been repeatedly sustained by the courts.

In his "Commentaries on the Constitution" the distinguished American jurist, Joseph Story, held that while the legislator was privileged to make the speech, publication of it would subject him to a charge of libel, Story wrote:

"No man ought to have the right to defame others under the color of a performance of the duties of his office. And if he does so in the actual discharge of his duties in the congress, that furnished no reason why he should be able, through the medium of the press, to destroy the reputation and invade the repose of other citizens. It is neither within the scope of his duty nor in the furtherance of public rights or public policy. Every citizen has as good a right to be protected by the law from malignant scandal and false charges and defamatory imputations as a member of congress has to utter them in his seat. If it were otherwise, a man's character might be taken away without the possibility of redress, either by the malice or indifference or overweening self-conceit of a member of congress."

Later decisions of the courts altered this construction. Bona fide publication was held to be immune from the charge of libel or slander. But, plainly, the responsibility of the legislator was to be assumed as the following from the decision of a federal court in Washington expresses it: "Presumably legislators will be restrained in the exercise of such a privilege by the responsibilities of their office. Moreover, in the event of their failure in that regard, they will be subject to discipline by their colleagues."

Senate Has Suffered
There are many, including some senators themselves, who believe the senate has suffered damage from the McCarthy affair. This includes Republicans who have disassociated themselves from the McCarthy attacks. Under the constitution the senate and the house have the authority to make their own rules. This includes the right to expel a member for improper behavior by a two-thirds vote.

Improper behavior has been taken to mean a crime of the first magnitude, such as treason or some act of moral turpitude. In recent years two members of the senate were expelled, but they were expelled for acts of fraud committed in their election campaigns. Although they had been allowed to take their seats in the senate, they had not participated in the senate's business because of the suspected fraud.

As has been often said, the senate has many of the attributes of a very exclusive club. The members jealously guard their rights and privileges. Some years ago the charge of homosexuality was imputed against one senator and the ranks of his fellow members quickly closed round him in defense.

But the public in this instance is entitled at the very least to know the circumstances behind the outbreak. In particular, the influence of the Nationalist Chi-

National Debt Only 21 Cents Per Capita; That Was In 1840

WASHINGTON—(AP)— Ah, but it was great to be alive in 1840. That was the year the national debt almost fizzled out, and became a mere 21 cents per capita. Compare this with the present, when it has skyrocketed to $1,698.06, and you'll see how times have changed.

This fiscal intelligence comes to us from a booklet put out by the Senate committee on executive expenditures. The title of the booklet: "Increased Cost of the Federal Government."

It contains a lot of interesting figures. Such as the fact that not until the Civil War did the per capita debt amount to much. In 1895 it climbed to $75.01. Then it dropped down to around $12 to $15 per each and stayed there to World War I.

This set us off, and we've never been the same since. It went up to $242.52, in 1919; dwindled to $131.51, in 1930, and then began creeping up again.

Ex-Rapid River Man Is Honored

Glenn Hamilton, formerly of Rapid River, manager of the Marinette - Menominee Credit Bureau, has been selected as the Fifth district candidate for the collection service competition that will be held at the International Credit Conference in Cincinnati in June. Hamilton won the top spot in the population bracket up to 15,000 in competition with collection managers from Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan, Kentucky and Wisconsin.

na lobby and its paid representatives should be brought to light. If reports of the lobby's role are even partly true, here is an extraordinary instance of the representatives, paid agents and advocates of a foreign power creating something close to chaos in the conduct of American foreign policy. And in the process harm has been done to the institutions of free government.

Some Hopeful Signs Sighted

New Developments To Aid Humanity

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK — Some pleasing signs of progress in the administration of human affairs lately have showed themselves—timidly, like the first crocus, but nevertheless significant to us expert trend-sniffers.

While the papers are full of flying disks, jet planes and snorkel submarines, a man I knew is doing nicely with a new wrinkle in transportation. He is freighting groceries, whisky and other necessities to Bermuda. He is using a 300-ton sailing ship. She spans smartly along at about 10 knots, when the breeze is right, and she achieves her port with as much surety as a Constellation, if a little less swiftly.

This little freighter was built by her skipper, a Portuguese who cannot read or write, but who is an expert navigator. The skipper operates with a crew of five, including himself, and the payroll is not steep, since two of the other four men are his sons.

The cheapness of the operation—the charter is paid in pounds sterling, and the avoidance of a Bermuda internal shipping tax—has enabled John Hornberg, an American commission broker, to undersell his competition in many commodities. He is so pleased with the success of his venture that he is shopping around for a bigger schooner, now, with the idea of forming a commercial sailing fleet.

As a man who admires the simple life, and who mourned the passing of the tea clipper and the prairie wagon as sound vehicles, I take considerable heart from Mr. Hornberg's experiment. It would be well to warn the owners of the super chief that the ocean train may be just around the corner.

I have also noticed that one Dr. Clyde Corong of the University of Pennsylvania has just invented what may be the most significant gadget of the gadget age—a device which will shut off radio commercials in response to a whistle, a handclap or a rousing razzberry.

Plastic Tape Gets Around Nowadays

NEW YORK—(P)—Household plastic tape sticks to a lot of things when Americans start to use it. One bachelor mends his red flannels with it—puts one strip on each side of a tear. He says it works fine except that it has to be replaced after each washing.

Another man says he puts it around the cheese in a mousetrap to prevent the mice from running off with the bait. It even gets into crime, says the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co., which puts out one brand of it. Thieves taped the sawed bars of a window back in place after breaking into a safe. Police could not figure out how they got in until one cop leaned on the bars and nearly fell into the street.

A dairyman tapes cows' tails to their sides when he milks to avoid being swatted by the tail. A man whose ears stick out says he tapes them down and gets a better tumble from the girls.

Teacher Clinics Planned In U. P.

U. of M. Sponsors Five Conferences

Five Upper Peninsula area teacher clinics are being held this week by the University of Michigan.

All elementary and secondary school teachers, administrators, and school board members in the Upper Peninsula will have a chance to confer with University staff members during the clinics.

The clinics are scheduled as follows:

Sault Ste. Marie, Monday, April 10, 7 p. m.

Munising, Tuesday, April 11, 7 p. m.

Hancock, Wednesday, April 12, all day.

Ironwood, Thursday, April 13, 7 p. m.

Gladstone, Friday, April 14, 7 p. m.

Discussion groups will be staged at the clinics covering such topics as guidance, testing and evaluation, curriculum, administration, community and area surveys, library, audio-visual aids, industrial arts, mathematics, science, social studies, music, English and language.

Consultants will be: Lawrence E. Vredevoe, director, Kent W. Leach, Fred A. Miller, and Fred G. Stevenson, of the University's Bureau of School Services; William G. Merhab and Edna S. Smith, of the School of Education; Dean C. Baker, of the Department of Journalism, and Albert K. Stevens, Department of English, of the College of Literature, Science and the Arts; Grover Flannery.

Postal Union Is Explained

Hamilton Is Stamp Club Speaker

Edward D. Hamilton, president of the Wisconsin Federation of Stamp Clubs, talked on the formation and workings of the Universal Postal Union at the 15th annual banquet of the Escanaba Philatelic Society at Grenier's hall Tuesday evening. Twenty stamp collectors of Escanaba and vicinity attended.

The Universal Postal Union is of interest to stamp collectors, especially because its 75th anniversary in 1949 was marked by the issuing of commemorative stamps by practically every country in the world. Hamilton told of the formation of the Union in 1874, by a Frenchman and a German, to expedite the exchange of mail between various countries. Headquarters of the organization is in Geneva, Switzerland, because the Swiss have been neutral for over 300 years.

He gave an explanation of the workings of the Union, the use of international reply coupons and international money orders and displayed stamps issued in commemoration of the 25th and 50th anniversaries.

Mr. Hamilton spent 22 years traveling in all countries of western Europe before coming to the United States in 1939. At various times he lived under the governments of the German Kaiser, the Danish king, the Queen of the Netherlands, the Communists, and the Nazis. He said that of all forms of government, ours in the United States is by far the best.

To illustrate one phase alone, he detailed incidents, in 1919 under the Communists and in the 1930's under the Nazis, of religious persecution of Catholics and Protestants that were almost exact parallels of the present day persecutions in Czechoslovakia and other "Iron Curtain" countries.

After traveling in 22 states of this country, he has found only one cause of complaint—"The bath tubs are too small!"

REAL ESTATE FOR WOMEN
CHICAGO—(P)—The Chicago Real Estate Board was an all-men organization for 67 years. But now it has decided to admit women real estate brokers as members.

Members of the General Library; and Helge E. Hansen, of the Audio-Visual Education Center.

IN AIR FORCE—Pvt. Wayne J. DeRusha, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis DeRusha, 1323 North 21st street, has reported to Lackland Air Force base in San Antonio, Texas, to receive basic air force indoctrination.

Lackland is the world's largest air force base and is the center of basic training for airmen and women, indoctrination station for re-enlistees, and home of the AF officer candidate school. Pvt. DeRusha will be at Lackland 13 weeks, after which he is eligible for air force technical training and assignment in specialized work.

The pies, bought from faculty members, could be eaten or thrown at the seller. None were eaten.

Bales Of Hay Shot To Loft

New Pneumatic Gun Is Developed

SAINT JOSEPH, Mich., (SS)—The modern way to get bales of hay up into the loft of a storage barn is to "shoot" them up with a pneumatic gun. A special gun, developed for the purpose, is described in the March issue of Agricultural Engineering, published here.

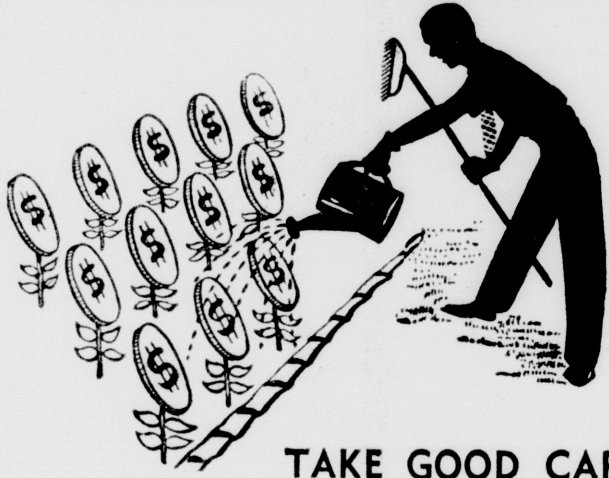

The gun was developed by a New York State farmer, F. W. Moffet, jr., and used by him in 1948 to store 15,000 bales of hay. During 1949 it was used at the Iowa State college, where it was subjected to engineering scrutiny. The description is by Prof. J. B. Liljedahl, formerly of Iowa State but now with the University of Tennessee, and Prof. E. L. Barger of Iowa State.

The principal parts of the gun include a pneumatic cylinder into which a bale of hay can be dropped, piston and rod, and a pusher plate which heaves the bale. Surrounding the cylinder is an air tank which holds a measured amount of compressed air that serves as the "explosive" for the gun. The compressor is charged by a 5-horsepower engine.

At 200-pound pressure, the gun can heave a 58-pound bale to a height of 21 feet and a horizontal distance of 48 feet. The gun can be pointed to take proper aim. It shoots accurately enough to send the bales squarely through the hay doors.

Its working speed, when shooting into a door 21 feet above the ground, is a little less than three bales a minute. It is considerably faster than hand methods of handling, or the use of the common grapplefork method.

Better Hybrid Corn Possible

Detasseling Is Not Necessary

MADISON, Wis. (SS)—In a program aimed at eliminating the need for detasseling hybrid seed corn, University of Wisconsin scientists are starting work on the introduction of a corn plant with sterile pollen, one which cannot reproduce itself.

Scientists say that if the work is successful, it will change the still new but large hybrid seed corn industry by making possible more vigorous corn. It is pointed out that one objection to the costly and laborious detasseling process is that it often results in the stalk being damaged, making the plant easy prey to disease or insects.

With sterile corn, it would be possible to plant from two to six rows of this kind to one or two of normal corn and avoid detasseling. Using the kind with sterile pollen as one of the parents, the process could be used to grow any hybrid.

At present, it is necessary to detassel one of the types to prevent the plants from pollinating themselves. In other words, if type A is to pollinate type B, the tassels from B must be removed

59 Years of Steady Service

I TRIED O-JIB-WA AFTER READING OF WONDERS IT DID FOR OTHER SUFFERERS

After 8 years of constant suffering it seems really wonderful to be free of the pains and stiffness of Rheumatism and Arthritis, says Mrs. Roy Daniels Sr., a resident of suburban Detroit.

Regardless of what you have tried without results, it is our honest opinion that you owe it to yourself to give O-JIB-WA BITTERS a chance to help you. The following testimonial of Mrs. Roy Daniels Sr., of 14775 Ola St., Romulus, is true and was given freely without pay in gratitude for the wonderful results that she has received.

Suffered for 8 Long Years
"It is hard for me to express in words the appreciation I have for O-JIB-WA BITTERS. I suffered almost continually for 8 years with the pains and stiffness of rheumatism and arthritis, before using this wonderful medicine. I just had to write and tell you what wonders O-JIB-WA has done for me. I had arthritis in my arms for 8 years and then it went to my legs. It was so bad, that it even hurt me to sit in a chair and it was hard to get started to walk. I had to force myself to keep going, as I was unable to do my own housework, so lived with my daughter."

Recommended to Many
"I read in the paper what O-JIB-WA BITTERS had done for others, so I thought I would try it. After using one bottle, all my pains left me and I also had a lot more pep and energy. O-JIB-WA is really wonderful. I wouldn't be without it in the house. I have recommended it to many people, especially whenever I heard any person mention arthritis and they all seem to get results. It is wonderful."

ATTENTION PLEASE

We the makers of O-JIB-WA BITTERS, wish to thank Mrs. Daniels and the many other users of our products, who so graciously endorse O-JIB-WA without reward because of what it has done for them.

No medicine being sold today for Rheumatism and Arthritis has received such public acclaim and enthusiastic recommendation by its users than O-JIB-WA BITTERS. The reason for this is because O-JIB-WA is not just a pain deadener as are so many tablets on the market today, containing primarily aspirin and salicylates. O-JIB-WA works through the blood stream and loosens stiff joints to relieve the distressing pain, even when the stiffness has become deep seated. O-JIB-WA BITTERS has a tonic effect on the stomach, liver, kidneys and nervous system. O-JIB-WA is quick in action and in most cases aids in correcting the cause of these horrible agonies. Regardless of what you have tried without results, you owe it to yourself to try this great all herb medicine. Don't give up hope. Don't put off. Give O-JIB-WA BITTERS a chance to help you. "Why should I worry whether Michigan Bell makes a profit or not?" asked Betty. "You work there. That's your worry."
"A fair profit for Michigan Bell means good telephone service for you," I replied.

"But it means something else to you, too," I told her. "And I'll prove it to you. Your wages and commissions come from the money customers spend in this store. Right?"

"A lot of those customers are telephone employees like me. They have money to spend because the company can afford to employ them and pay them good wages."

"Why, do you know that Michigan Bell paid out over 75 million dollars last year in wages? In order to continue to do that, the company just has to be financially sound."

"So, it's not only good for us telephone employees to have Michigan Bell make a fair profit. It's good for you and this store . . . and for people in lots of other businesses, too."

Only a financially healthy telephone company can do all these things:

- 1 Keep on improving and expanding so you'll be able to have the kind of service you want, when and where you want it . . . and you can call more people. THAT'S GOOD FOR YOU.
- 2 Carry on the construction program to meet your telephone needs, which also means more jobs and more money in circulation. THAT'S GOOD FOR YOU.
- 3 Keep on buying millions of dollars worth of materials and supplies from Michigan industries. THAT'S GOOD FOR YOU.
- 4 Provide telephone jobs which help keep up employment and purchasing power in Michigan. THAT'S GOOD FOR YOU.
- 5 Continue to assume its share of the tax burden for government services and educational needs. THAT'S GOOD FOR YOU.

To keep on doing all these things, we'll need additional money from investors. And the only thing that will attract that money is a reasonable profit. This means that telephone rates must be adequate. The additional cost to you would be small—only a fraction of a cent more per call.

Disease Kills Capital Trees

Dutch Elm Fungus Taking Its Toll

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—The elm planted on the White House lawn by President John Quincy Adams is doing fine. So is the elm planted by President Rutherford B. Hayes in 1878. A sweet gum planted by Benjamin Harrison in 1892 and a scarlet oak planted by William McKinley in 1898 also are chipping. And, even though it's made "slow progress" according to experts who say it is "small and not too beautiful," the Russian-American oak planted on the East lawn in 1904 by President "Teddy" Roosevelt is still struggling skyward. However, disease and old age are taking numbers of the Capital's finest old shade trees. Local plant pathologists and tree surgeons are engaged in extensive measures to control the ravages.

The Dutch elm disease, which continues to spread over the eastern and mid-western United States, killing thousands of trees, has been wreaking increasing damage in Washington. Last year 35 cases were reported here, as compared with one in 1947. The deadly fungus, first discovered in this country in Cleveland, O., in 1940, causes foliage to wilt and turn brown and kills trees within two to three years. It is spread by the European elm bark beetle, which carries the spores of diseased trees on its body.

Horace Wester, plant pathologist of the National Capital Parks, and District of Columbia specialists are trying to control the disease by "keeping good elms in healthy condition, taking out dead and dying limbs where the bark beetle settles and by some spraying with DDT. A regular scouting crew of two men in a jeep cruise over the city looking over the elms and collecting elms and collecting big samples for culture," Mr. Wester told me. "When we find an infected tree we cut it down and burn it. . . but we're going to have to keep right on the job if we make any real headway."

Another disease giving the specialists a mounting headache is the canker stain which attacks the sycamore tree. Somewhat related to the Dutch elm disease, it is transmitted by people rather than insects, says Mr. Wester. "We're losing about eight sycamores a year in the parks, and the city must be losing a lot more," Mr. Wester said, explaining that sycamores are important because they grow fast and well under city conditions—smoke, auto fumes and such.

A lot of the city trees on the other hand are just dying from old age. That was what was believed the trouble with the famed 149-year-old elm planted on Capitol Hill at George Washington's suggestion.

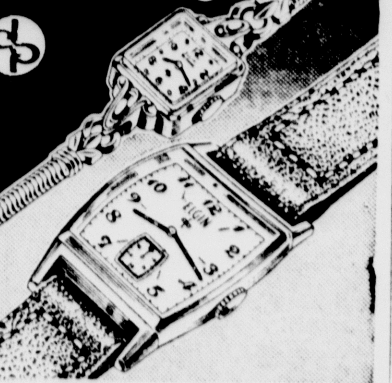

Distances above the earth up to 20 miles can be measured with high accuracy by a new instrument. It is a type of hypsometer, an instrument which measures altitudes by determining the boiling point of a liquid and from it calculating the atmospheric pressure.

Los Angeles Smog Is Old Story Now

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—In recent years Los Angeles has fought smog. It is a combination of smoke and fog and sometimes dust that cuts visibility and irritates citizens. Now comes Dr. Clifford Zierler, University of California geographer. He has found an 1888 newspaper report that a similar condition was found there then. It continued for at least six days in 1888. There were no industries to blame for it then so it was blamed variously on a Guadalupe Island volcano and forest fires in Washington and Oregon.

Gabby Enjoys Going to The Dentist

One of my molars was giving me a bad time Tuesday afternoon, so I slipped over to Doc Jones, hoping to catch him free. When I arrived, Gabby Jackson was sitting there reading a magazine. I said hello to Gabby and he nodded.

Doc comes out and says I'm next. "Wait a minute," I says. (My tooth seemed to have stopped aching.) "How about Gabby?" doesn't he have an appointment?" Doc smiles and says, "Gabby? Why, he's got the finest teeth in the county. He just comes up here and reads the magazines whenever he's in town!"

As Doc went to work he told me that he's glad to have Gabby come up and read magazines... they might not all be fresh off the newsstand, but if Gabby—or anyone wants to while away some time who is he to stand in their way?

From where I sit, this "live and let live" spirit helps make America what it is. If I prefer a friendly glass of beer with my supper and you prefer milk—who's to say one's right and the other wrong?

Anti-Acne Salve Is Found Helpful

CHICAGO—Good results in 100 cases treated with a cosmetically attractive anti-acne ointment are reported by Dr. Helen Dexter of the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine in the Journal of the American Medical Association here today.

The ointment, called acnomel, is a flesh-tinted, nongreasy preparation containing resorcinol, sulfur and alcohol. Dr. Dexter's patients were instructed to apply this each morning and evening after twice lathering the skin with soap and hot water and then rinsing with cold water.

Of the 100 patients following this treatment scheme, 45 had their acne completely arrested, 33 were decidedly improved and 17 were improved, Dr. Dexter reports.

In addition, the patients were instructed to omit chocolate and cola drinks from their diet and to cut down on nuts and heavily fried foods. They were "warned emphatically" to keep their hands away from their faces.

Tod Ewalds Back From Extensive Tour Of West

RAPID RIVER—Mr. and Mrs. Tod Ewald who left here December 14 in company with Miss Abigail Rowley of Escanaba, on a motor trip to California, have returned from their four months' vacation. In California they visited with their son and daughter-in-law, Rev. and Mrs. Tod Ewald, spending two and a half months at their home in Corte Madera. They arrived at Corte Madera December 24 and they observed their 40th wedding anniversary there on December 27.

They also visited with relatives in Portland, Ore., and Olympia, Wash., in the latter city with Mr. Ewald's sister, Mrs. L. L. Dalton whom he had not seen in 25 years. Another reunion was held in Boise, Idaho, where they visited Mrs. Tom O'Connell, Mrs. Ewald's aunt. This also was their first meeting with her in 25 years. The O'Connells are former residents of Rapid River. Mr. O'Connell died two years ago.

The Ewalds stopped in Salt Lake City, Utah, where they enjoyed a half hour organ recital at a Mormon Tabernacle. In Minneapolis they visited Mr. Ewald's sister, Mrs. Harry Doherty and her son, John Hancock, Jr. Mrs. Doherty will be remembered as the former Mrs. John Hancock of Gladstone.

The Ewalds' grandson, Karl Aube, who accompanied them to California, is remaining there until the end of the school year.

Fellowship Meeting
The Woman's Fellowship of the Congregational church will meet Wednesday afternoon at 2 at the Alton school house. Hostesses will be Mrs. Robert Olson, Mrs. Julius Papineau and Mrs. Andrew Magnusson.

Personals
Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Annuson and son of Stevens Point, Wis., visited during the Easter weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Annuson.

Mrs. Albert Bond has left for a several weeks' visit with relatives in Detroit.

"MY FAVORITE RECIPE"

Home Manager, Attention: Be sure to read the Trade Secrets in these ads. They may be very valuable to you!

Trade Secret: Asparagus has been considered one of Spring's most delicious vegetables for centuries. The season is very short, so enjoy fresh asparagus while it is available.

ASPARAGUS AU GRATIN

2 lbs. fresh asparagus
1 1/2 lb. American cheese, diced
1/2 cup milk
1 1/2 tsp salt
1/2 cup fine dry bread crumbs

Steam asparagus about 15 minutes until tops are tender. Drain and place in oblong greased baking dish. Heat cheese and milk and salt in double boiler, stirring until cheese is melted. Pour over asparagus in baking dish. Sprinkle with crumbs. Brown under low flame or in moderately hot oven 375 degrees. Serves 4 to 6 persons.

Today's Recipes

Broiled Peach Cake
Ingredients: For Cake—1 3/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup sugar, 1/3 cup shortening, 2/3 cup milk, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon vanilla. For Topping—1 cup canned cling peach slices, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1/2 cup brown sugar (firmly packed), 2 tablespoons cream.

Method: For Cake—Sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar into large mixing bowl. Cut in shortening until particles are very fine. Add milk, egg and vanilla. Stir with spoon to mix, then beat with rotary beater about 1 minute, or until batter is smooth. Pour into greased 8-inch square cake pan. Bake in moderately hot (375 F.) oven about 30 minutes. For Topping—Drain peach slices thoroughly. Blend butter or margarine, sugar and cream; spread on top of hot baked cake. Arrange peach slices over sugar mixture. Place under broiler, watching carefully until topping bubbles and browns. Makes 8 servings.

STUFF—you—didn't—know before Dept.: The reason those wood idols in China were able to withstand the elements for centuries is that they were coated with tung oil.

So what Dept.: Tung oil is used as the base of all NuEnamel Paints. Have you tried their Whiter White Enamel? It is guaranteed never to turn yellow; is so easy to wash; will cover twice as much surface. It's the perfect enamel for brightening up your kitchen or bathroom this Spring. Bob Hawes at the Nu Enamel Store, 920 Ludington, will send some out to you with his free delivery service—phone him at 1867.

A SOUTHERN Mountain girl visited me one day after we had bought a new davenport and chair. "Waal", she said, "I see you've set up the livin' room!" If you're planning to "set up the livin' room" this Spring, be sure to get the handsome new davenports and chairs at Bonfeld's. A beautiful beige, mohair fringe set with a channel back and deep fringe base—only $199.95. A lovely green fringe set for just $179.50. At Bonfeld's.

KRYN BLOOM at Anderson-Bloom thinks the sure way to get rid of these rainy days is to advertise raincoats! The famous Alligator raincoats I saw there come in two styles; trench coat or raglan. They are so smart looking—and then nice part is that they stay that way even when they're wet. Stop in at Anderson-Bloom, the men's store at 1204 Ludington, and get yourself an Alligator raincoat for these April showers—I'm afraid they're here to stay!

THE City Drug has another of its amazing offers this week. This time it's a new cream deodorant—Leon Loraine. You can get a large size jar (regular $1.00 value) for only 50c. A limited time offer, of course, so you had better get yours soon. Leon Loraine Cream Deodorant is something new "for those who insist on something better." I know you won't be sorry if you try some. Get it at the City Drug.

"WE'LL build a sweet little nest, somewhere in the West". Or even in the Upper Peninsula! You can make that dream home a reality with the help from a book I found at Gust Asps. Entitled, "Your Dream Home"—Subtitled, "how to build it for less than $3500. Written by Hubbard Cobb. If you have the building bug, better see this book at Gust Asps—$3.95.

HERE'S a Penny for your thoughts! It's a very special Penny Store offer on men's suits. I ran my hand over those all wool gabardines and sharkskins—mmm! What quality! I ran my eyes over those well tailored lines—brother, what would they do to your shoulders! I took a peek at the price tag—surprise—only $35. You'd better see these double breasted suits in grays, browns and blues. Sizes 36 to 40.

HOW is your arithmetic these days? If you want the undivided attention of the man of the hour, you'll need the smart addition of some Coro jewelry to your Spring costumes. The Fair Store has such adorable pieces for just a fraction of what you'd expect to pay—just $1.00 (and the decimal point is in the right place!) I saw some sweet gold bow knot earrings studded with either blue or pink brilliant wreath scatter pin. The sum total is this—you'll cut a pretty figure with Coro jewelry from the Fair!

HERE'S some record player news. Bargain prices—you can't lose! Like your music hot or sweet? You'll find the range is quite complete. I'm talking about the special purchase of albums at the Delta Music Center. Because of this super buy, they are able to pass along to you, at a 20% discount, music by Fred Waring, Nelson Eddy, Phil Spitalny, Bob Hope and a host of others. Better see these fine albums soon and make your choice while there's still a big selection.

Clinic HereU of M Experts
Show Fine Points

The fine points of cheer leading, baton twirling and leadership techniques were demonstrated at a clinic held at the high school gymnasium Monday for the benefit of schools in this area.

Demonstrating these techniques were a group from the University of Michigan headed by Newton C. Loken, assistant supervisor in physical education at the University, Bob Willoughby and Tom Tillman, students at the U and members of the varsity gymnastics team; along with Floyd Zarbeck and Richard Smith, assistant drum majors of the Michigan Marching band.

Music for these demonstrations was provided by the Manistique high school band, the members appearing on the scene in uniform.

Following the clinic, Mr. Loken presented a specialty act on the trampoline.

This being part of the Easter vacation, students from many neighboring high schools attended the clinic.

Ben Karwoski
Honored For His Boy Scout Work

Ben Karwoski, master of the Rotary sponsored Boy Scout Troop 460, was honored at the regular meeting of the Manistique Rotary Club Monday noon.

The Rev. Paul Sobel, Scout commissioner of this area, spoke in appreciation of Karwoski's efforts and in behalf of the Rotary club, presented him with a Scout-master's uniform.

When Karwoski took over his Scouting duties, Rev. Sobel explained, there were 15 members in the troop, while at present there are forty-one Scouts in that unit. Scouting, says Rev. Sobel, has made commendable strides in the past two years. Cub Scouting, he added is an important phase of the work.

Rev. Sobel asked that the Rotary club continue to give its active support to Scouting and recommended even closer cooperation with Karwoski in his work.

Haber To Discuss
Social Security
Here This Evening

Social security will be the theme discussed by William Haber, of the University of Michigan faculty at a meeting at the assembly room of the junior high school here this evening.

Mr. Haber has been professor of economics in the institute of Public and Social Administration and the Department of Economics at the university since 1936. His lecture will be an historical statement of the development of social security. He will discuss proposals for revision, what are the trends and what will be the cost.

His is the third in a series of six lectures by University of Michigan men dealing with business and economics.

Story Hour Held
Tuesday Morning
At School Library

Forty-one children were present at a story hour session conducted Tuesday morning at the school library by Dorothy Shipman.

A tape recorder on which the program had been transcribed provided the medium through which the stories, enhanced by suitable music, were presented to the children. They listened breathlessly to the entrancing tales of "The Popcorn Lamb and the Peppermint Sticks," "Walt Disney's 'Dumbo,' the flying elephant; and "Stone Soup," telling how three soldiers managed to prepare toasty and nourishing soup out of stones—and a few other items. There was also an Easter story and a number of Easter poems.

Mrs. Shipman states that the children were very much interested and many wanted to hear more long after the story hour period was over. She plans to have more story hours later on.

Local Band May
Play In ChicagoAlso Receives Other
Out-Of-Town Offers

Manistique Municipal Band may exchange concerts with the Negaunee City band this coming season, Ferdinand Gorsky, band leader stated at Monday's meeting of the Manistique Rotary Club. He added that this is one of a number of out of town engagements the band may be called upon to play this summer, one of which may possibly be in Chicago.

The band he said, is making good progress and is very likely to expand in membership. There are thirty-four members now and he believed that by summer, the number would increase to forty.

He expressed appreciation for the backing given by the community and asked that the band continue to receive support.

Lawrence Gorsche, veteran band member, told the Rotarians of Manistique bands of other years and said that the present organization is better than any other that has represented the city.

Clint Leonard, told Rotarians that financial remuneration was a very secondary matter as far as the band membership was concerned. Members of the organization gave their services because they loved music and were justly proud of the results of their efforts, he stated.

Norman Martin introduced the speakers.

Gulliver Planning
Club Has Meeting

A number of activities are planned by the Gulliver Planning Club. At a recent meeting the club appointed a committee of three to confer with the county road commission concerning needed improvement on side roads in the area.

The club's recreational committee was instructed to make arrangements for a dance as a benefit for the current cancer fund drive.

At the close of the meeting a playlet, entitled "A Slight Mistake," was presented by the following cast: Mrs. Edwin Johnson, Mrs. Edwin MacGregor, Mrs. Ted Jackson, Mrs. Franklin Creedon and Mrs. Vernon Johnson. Three songs were sung by Mrs. Edwin MacGregor, Mrs. Franklin Creedon and Mrs. Edwin Johnson.

Lunch was served by Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smith and Mrs. James Rodgers.

The next meeting will be held May second at the Whitehead school.

England, for a five-day visit. The Charles R. Ware recently joined the Northern European Naval Forces after a two-month cruise in the Mediterranean.

Youth Center
Has Been SoldMulhaupt Bros. To Occupy Building

The Manistique Youth Center has been sold.

A deal was completed Monday afternoon whereby Mulhaupt Brothers became owners of the property and they will move into the building in the course of the next few weeks where they will continue to operate their hardware business.

The building, located on Deer street, originally housed the mercantile business of the late William L. Middlebrook. After his retirement about ten years ago, the place was vacant until the fall of 1946, when Mr. Middlebrook rented the property to a local committee for use as a youth center.

The youth center idea struck public fancy in a big way. Under the careful supervision of capable supervisors, youngsters of the community found wholesome entertainment and companionship and on evenings designated for its use the place was usually crowded.

Impressed with the success of the idea and its possibilities of permanence, a committee of three, consisting of E. T. Lundstrom, Dr. George Shaw and Omer Schuster, negotiated the purchase of the building and they have held the property in trust for the center until its sale Monday.

The funds secured from the sale of the building will remain intact until some project having to do with youth and recreation will come to the fore and receive favorable consideration.

The youth center idea, while still popular with young people, failed to gain public support in last fall's community chest fund drive. The committee was also confronted with the need of a number of expensive repairs. As a result an offer to sell was accepted. It is also revealed that no financial loss resulted from the disposal.

Will Improve Property
Mulhaupt Brothers state that they will take immediate steps to improve the property and that it will provide quarters almost twice the size of their present store. The upstairs will also be remodeled and occupied by them for living quarters.

Miss Ruth Martinson has returned to St. Paul where she is a student at Bethel College, after spending the Easter holidays here with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Harold Martinson, Elk street.

Bark River Already Planning For Next Year's Ski Season

ANOTHER SEASON COMING — The Bark River ski slide is "out of action" for the year but plans already are under way for next season.

BARK RIVER—The winter skiing season is just about over but members of the Bark River Winter Sports club already are laying plans for next winter.

During the summer school vacation, they are going to make improvements to their slide near the school, level off knolls and make toboggan runs.

The slide was very popular this year. There were 15 members in the club and many persons from other communities, including Escanaba, Iron Mountain and Niagara, used it.

Dale Erickson was president of the club. Other officers were Peter Kasbohm, vice president; Robert W. Johnson, secretary and James Lavigne, treasurer.

One Escanaba boy who used to practice on the slide, John Grodzky, has gone on to become one of the better jumpers in the Upper Peninsula.

The Niagara Ski club, returning from another meet, stopped at the local slide one Sunday. The longest jump was 87 feet.

Funds for material for the slide were provided by community businessmen and other persons interested.

Spilling The Dope

By Charlie Larson

Wanna get a good belly laugh? Or even several good ones? Then drop around to St. Joe gym tonight. The Silver Gloves are on.

This is no "fight-for-pay" deal. It's strictly "fight for fun." And there's some doubt as to which has the most fun—the fighters or the spectators.

You've heard of the whirling dervish . . . and the windmill . . . and the flying saucer.

If you want to see them all thrown together at once, don't miss the Silver Gloves windup tonight. Starts at 7:30.

Larson

The boys range in age from five to 16. They come in all sizes and descriptions. Some wear khaki shorts . . . others wear boxing trunks with their initials embroidered thereon . . . still others wear swimming trunks.

Some trunks look as though they might fall off . . . others are skin tight and look as though they might "give up the ghost" at the seams . . . so far, "fears" of the watchers have been groundless . . . but anything may happen.

The ring stools are so high that the fighters have to dangle their legs while resting between rounds.

But there's one thing for "shure." The boys love to fight.

So eager are most of them that they have to be restrained during the 10-second whistle blows for the seconds to leave the ring. And, when they cross gloves, bro-THER!

Their reflexes are like high tension springs. Bonnnnggg!

They throw more leather in a minute than the pros do in three. Of course, most of it doesn't land but it's flying, nevertheless.

There's only one sad note.

These kids are proud as peacocks (they look more like little banty roosters in the ring) as they climb into the huge ring that engulfs most of them.

Then, there's that shy, hesitant look as they try to find their friends in the audience.

What is worse for them than not finding their friends is not being able to find their parents.

And, unfortunately, only 14 parents showed up Monday night. There were 30 boys fighting.

The boys are in tears if Mom and Pop don't see them give their all. Come on, parents. Let's get out to see Junior. And you fans, whether you have a Junior or not, get over to the gym.

You don't have to know boxing. You just have to know kids. After seeing them in action, you can throw away your aspirin for a week. Your headaches will be gone. In their place, will be belly-aches. From laughing.

Ponzi, Famed Cue Ace, Dies

Trolley, Falling Stone Shaped Career

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Andrew Ponzi, three-time winner of the world's pocket billiards title and one of the game's most popular players, died yesterday in Hahnemann hospital. He was 47.

Ponzi was stricken with a heart attack two weeks ago.

His death came less than a month after that or another famed cue artist—in the same hospital. R. A. L. P. H. Greenleaf, 50, one of the top players of the game and 14-time world champion, died of a cerebral hemorrhage on March 15.

Andrew Ponzi, Dalmatian, in Philadelphia, Ponzi was placed in an orphanage at the age of four after the death of his father, Felix.

His friends claimed much of his wizardry could be attributed to two childhood accidents that occurred on the same day. His right hand was mangled in a trolley accident; then he was hit on the head by a stone falling from a building under construction as he was returning home from the hospital.

The two injuries kept him in bed for weeks. He decided a short time later to strengthen his right hand by playing pool. Several bones in the injured hand never healed completely. That fact, the friends declared, permitted a "free hand swing from the wrist" which aided his game and which other players found difficult to emulate.

He's Mr. Baseball

Tris Speaker Tells What Game Means To Him

DALLAS, Tex. — (AP) — "I'm still a Texan," said Tris Speaker. "There's no such thing as an ex-Texan."

The baseball immortal, white-haired, sunburned, and 62, was enjoying a shave and manicure in a Dallas barber shop.

"What does baseball mean to you, Mr. Speaker?"

"To me, as a player, it has meant a livelihood," he replied. "It's the nicest way I know to earn a living. I was well paid. Baseball players make more these days but I don't know that they wind up with more take-home pay."

"The player who can make the major leagues has a good start in life—a chance for opportunities after his playing days are done."

"Those are some of the things baseball means to me—but the game is bigger than that. I can tell you what I think it means to the country."

"It's the greatest sports activity we Americans have, and athletes of this country have been greatly responsible for our ability to fight and win wars. These psychologists say if you put a baseball and other toys in front of a baby, he'll pick up the baseball in preference to the others. The American boy starts swinging a bat about as soon as he can lift one.

"On baseball diamonds he learns how to win and lose. He acquires the spirit of competition that will mean so much to him in his business life later—the desire to accomplish—the urge to win."

"Baseball as a spectator sport is a fine thing for this country. It helps to ease tension at a tense time. A fellow doesn't carry his worries to a ball game."

"And baseball's a great leveler, too—sort of a symbol of democracy. At a baseball game the bank president rubs shoulders with the laborer. You don't ask the fellow sitting next to you in the stands what he does for a living or how much money he has. You don't care. You're both there for the same purpose—to enjoy the game and root for the home team."

Wings Wallop Rangers In Cup Opener By 4 To 1

DETROIT — (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings were off to a flying start in the final Stanley cup hockey playoffs today.

The Wings, playing without their two star forwards, Ted Lindsay and Gordie Howe, whipped the New York Rangers 4-1 last night in a game that became one-sided after the first 40 minutes of play.

The victory put the Wings one up in the best-of-seven championship series which shifts to Toronto for games No. 2 and 3 on Thursday and Saturday nights. The pre-game 12-5 odds in favor of Detroit to win the series went up a couple of points.

The fast New Yorkers grabbed a one goal lead in the first period during which they skated rings around the Detroiters.

But the Wings surged back with a four-goal blitz in the second period to tuck the game away. After that, the Detroiters played strictly defensive hockey against the Rangers' futile efforts for a tally.

Many Fans Bored

The game lacked the blood and thunder atmosphere that marked Detroit's bruising semi-final series against the Toronto Maple Leafs. In fact, many of the 13,415 fans filed out of the rink in boredom midway of the final period.

New York, which surprised by slapping down Montreal in the semi-finals, had a lot of tough luck.

The Rangers picked up a first period goal on Buddy O'Connor's six-foot poke, and just missed connecting on two other shots that bounced off the Detroit goal posts behind Goale Harry Lumley.

The Wings' tying goal was scored by Joe Carveth as two Ranger players looked on from the penalty box.

That came at 4:43 and within the next 10 minutes Jim McFadden, George Gee and Jerry Couture slapped in goals to make it a 4-1 game.

Goalie Chuck Rayner chalked up 22 saves during the evening, two less than Lumley. But most of the New Yorker's saves were on difficult shots that kept him hopping around.

Bill Dudley Signs With Redskin Crew

WASHINGTON — (AP) — "Bullet Bill" Dudley is signing up for his seventh year of professional football, and his first with the Washington Redskins.

The former All-America from the University of Virginia signed a one-year pact for an undisclosed salary, the Redskins announced today.

Dudley was obtained by the Redskins two months ago from the Detroit Lions in a trade which sent halfback Dan Sandifer to the motor city.

Houtteman, Keller Star As Tigers Win Another

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — (AP) — If Detroit Tiger Manager Red Rolfe had any doubts left on Art Houtteman's readiness to start the American league season opener, he can throw them away now.

The dependable young right-hander came up with an 8-0 masterpiece against Little Rock of the Southern league yesterday right after Rolfe had announced that either Art or Freddie Hutchinson would pitch the opener next week at Cleveland.

The northward-bound Tigers will meet Chicago's White Sox in an arc light game tonight.

Houtteman's performance was even better than the shutout score indicated. He gave up only three hits—a double and two singles—and pitched to just 29 batters.

Art also ran to 35 the number of innings he has pitched without walking a man and topped off his hurling feat by striking out eight batters.

Bruce Blanchard, former Michigan State college athlete, got the first hit off Houtteman, a lusty double in the first, but he was cut down at third trying to stretch it. In the third Catcher Ralph Caldwell singled and was erased in a double play.

An error by second baseman Gerry Priddy in the eighth and Jack Cerin's single in the ninth put runners on the bases, but both died on first.

Meanwhile the Tigers were doing some good slugging behind Houtteman. The Detroit total of 11 hits included homers by Charley Keller, making his second start this spring, and Priddy. Jerry's came in the first inning and Keller's in the third.

The Tigers made a pair of runs in the first frame that gave Houtteman all the lead he needed. But they added three more in the third, two in the seventh and one in the ninth.

Jim Lawrence, a pitcher owned by the Detroit club, worked the last six innings and looked good although he gave up seven hits including a double by Keller and a triple by Johnny Groth.

Detroit . . . 203 000 201—3 11 1 Little Rock 000 000—0 3 0 Houtteman and Robinson, House (8); Fotio, Lawrence (4) and Caldwell.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

ATLANTA, Ga. — (AP) — "The only thing I told Dick Jones this spring was to find me an extra-point kicker and a piano player," chuckled Robert Lee Dodd, Georgia Tech's football coach. "I sure do like to have a piano player on my team. The boys have more fun on the road." . . . Dick Jones, Tech's No. 1 talent "co-ordinator," chimed in: "I've got one, coach—for two years from now. He's down at a little high school in the hills now and he's good. When he gets through with football I'm going to sign him up for a radio show." . . . Dodd, besides being one of the south's best coaches, seems to get more fun out of it than anyone else. . . . He was fooling around with some split-T plays early in spring practice but gave them up just because of that. . . . "I'll retain the basic play, the quarterback keep," Bobby says. "But when the split-T is working it's a running game and I like to throw the ball." . . . The fans in Atlanta want to see that, too. . . . You know, I think I'd stop coaching if I couldn't throw."

His Only Weakness
Dodd, who used to be quite a golf fan, got to talking about the Masters tournament and the way Jim Ferrier's game fell apart at the finish. . . . That's why Bobby quit the game. "There's enough strain in football," he rather go fishing so I can really relax."

Georgia Gleanings

Earl Mann, who operated the Atlanta Crackers as an independent ball club for years, isn't too happy about his new hookup with the Braves. They've only provided about one or two useful players. . . . Pittsburgh's Dapper Dan club is planning to show off home boy Ezzard Charles in a heavyweight title defense this summer.

Frank (Muscles) Stranahan, the golfer, spent considerable time talking to George (Brains) Halas, the pro football maestro in Phoenix last winter. Frank reports enthusiastically: "He has some very interesting ideas about physical conditioning."

Tarz Taylor Signs As Packer Coach

GREEN BAY, Wis. — (AP) — John L. (Tarzan) Taylor, who did his first football coaching at Michigan State college, will be with the Green Bay Packers next season.

Taylor was signed yesterday as an assistant to Gene (Tuffy) Ronzani, who has succeeded Curley Lambeau as Packer boss.

A former Ohio State player, Taylor was on the 1921 Buckeye Rose bowl team that lost to California, 28 to 0. After three years in pro football, one of them with the Chicago Bears, he became line coach at Michigan State.

Later he coached at Ohio State, Ohio University and Marquette, and was with the Baltimore Colts in the All-American conference for one season.

Ask Funds For County Roads

Supervisors Favor
2 Mill Local Aid

The Delta county board of supervisors, by majority voice vote, today recommended to the county tax allocation board that it allocate two mills, representing an estimated $54,000, for county road purposes.

The tax allocation commission will meet later this month to apportion a total 15 mills for local governmental purposes.

In the past, under the 15-mill tax limitation, no millage has been allocated to the county roads.

Last year the schools received seven mills and the county eight mills.

Both the schools and the county have indicated their need for millage at least equal to the amount they received last year.

The supervisors favor many of the townships indicated in discussion that they would favor reducing the school millage from seven to five mills, with the two mills to go to the county road commission.

The tax allocation commission is composed of county and school representatives, with one member of the six-man commission not affiliated with any governmental body.

Following lengthy discussion, and an effort to amend the recommended millage for roads from two mills to one mill, the motion to recommend an allocation of two mills carried by a considerable majority.

The board adjourned early this afternoon and will meet again in June.

Mrs. Roosevelt Jolted In Auto Accident On Way To Hyde Park

HYDE PARK, N. Y. — (P) — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, driving to Hyde Park to observe the fifth anniversary of her husband's death today, was shaken last night in a three-car accident.

Mrs. Roosevelt was being driven home from a session at the United Nations at Lake Success, where she is a U. S. delegate. She was riding in the front seat of her sedan with her chauffeur, Russell W. Linaka.

"We saw a car coming toward us swerve out of its path," she said later.

Linaka shouted a warning, "brace yourself... we're going to be hit!" and Mrs. Roosevelt jammed her feet against the floorboards.

The oncoming machine struck another car immediately ahead of the sedan, and then sideswiped the rear of the Roosevelt auto.

Linaka drove the sedan to a garage, and Mrs. Roosevelt took a taxi for the five-mile ride to her Val Kill cottage on the Hyde Park estate.

Carpenter Convicted In Stomping Slaying Tries To Escape Chair

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — (P) — Harry Burdette has another six months, at least, to live. The 28-year-old carpenter who helped stomp a man to death in a drunken rage was granted an appeal by the state supreme court yesterday.

Although the high court merely noted "appeal granted," it upheld by its action the contention of Burdette's attorneys that Burdette was too drunk to be guilty of premeditated—first degree—murder. He was convicted of the charge and was sentenced to die in the electric chair Friday night.

Burdette took up religion in his cell after his conviction and several Sundays ago was baptized in an icy creek. He said then that if his life were spared, he would devote the rest of it to God's work.

Fred C. Painter, 30, also was convicted of the stomping murder of Edward C. O'Brien, 31, on a downtown Charleston street and is slated to die June 9. He has an appeal pending before a lower court.

Burdette's case will be considered at the September term of court.

Plan To Reapportion Legislature Studied By GOP Policy Group

LANSING, — (P) — A tentative plan for the reapportionment of the legislature was ready today for submission to the Republican policy committee for its decision.

Under the plan, developed by a sub-committee of Republican lawmakers, the House of Representatives would be increased from 100 to a possible 110 members, while the Senate would be boosted from 32 to 34 members, all selected on the present population method.

Seeking to satisfy metropolitan area demands for legislative representation more nearly equal to their population, the sub-committee proposed to boost Wayne county from 27 to 38 seats.

Detroit, now the victim of a bedsheet ballot by selecting all its representatives at large, would be restricted under the G. O. P. plan, with not less than three and not more than four representatives coming from one district.

Deer Hunter Saved By New Robot Kidney Dies In Grand Rapids

GRAND RAPIDS — (P)—John Buiton, 55, a furniture salesman whose life was saved last November by newly developed "robot kidney," died today at Blodgett hospital.

He was admitted to the hospital March 30 suffering from a bronchial ailment. Death was attributed in pneumonia and complications.

Buiton's case attracted widespread attention when he was stricken with acute uremic poisoning while on a hunting trip in Delta county, Mich.

He was taken to Milwaukee where he submitted to a dramatic three-hour treatment in Columbia hospital. It was the first time the "robot kidney" had been used clinically.

Buiton recovered shortly and returned to his home here where he had been active until stricken with asthma last month.

A wife and daughter survive.

Boy, 9, Hangs Himself In Home Basement

DETROIT — (P) — A nine-year-old boy who argued with his mother over her refusal to permit him to go on a hike was found hanged in the basement of his home last night.

The boy was Harold Gorton, son of Mrs. Annabelle Gorton. Police said they believed the boy sought to frighten his mother after the argument and hanged himself accidentally.

Coyote-Dog Hybrid, Cunning And Cruel, Runs Wild In East

By VERN HAUGLAND

WASHINGTON, — (P) — A new beast of prey, cunning and cruel, has appeared in the Adirondack Mountains and in some other widely-scattered areas of the United States.

A coyote-dog hybrid, it is swifter than one of its forebears, the dog, and even more wary than the other, the keenly intelligent coyote, says the fish and wildlife service.

And it's more vicious than either, the agency adds.

"We've run into the coyote-dog hybrid before," said Clifford C. Pressnall, assistant chief of the service's predator control division. "A few years ago it became a menace in Kentucky but we put on a control campaign and cleaned it out."

Angry Protests Are Exchanged By U. S. A. And Russia

of staff of the U. S. Air Force, said the Air Force had no four-engine bombers in the Baltic area on Saturday, and none are missing.

Adm. Forrest P. Sherman, chief of naval operations, said the Navy patrol plane has been missing since Saturday—that had been announced previously—that it was unarmored, and "therefore, could not have fired on any other aircraft or returned the fire of any aircraft." The plane was a four-engine privateer.

Sherman said Navy patrol planes in the Baltic region are under standing orders to "stay well clear of the territory and territorial waters of Russia and Russian satellites." Russia regards Latvia as Russian territory, although this country has not recognized it as such.

Bomb For Copenhagen
The admiral said the Navy aircraft carrying ten men left Wiesbaden, Germany, last Saturday for "a routine training flight with intention of landing at Copenhagen."

That left room for an interpretation that the plane was under orders that permitted a circuitous rather than a straight route to the Danish capital.

The timing and distances involved, plus speculation in military quarters, suggested that if the Soviets did shoot down the Navy plane—and the protest says they fired on an American aircraft—the incident might have happened over Baltic waters rather than Latvian land.

American planes have every right to fly over the Baltic Sea outside territorial limits of other countries.

Naval patrol planes and their crews are equipped to spot submarines. The crew of the missing patrol plane included electronics technicians, Sherman told a news conference Feb. 13 that Russia had an estimated 270 submarines split into four major packs, one in the Baltic and the others in the Far East, Black Sea and along the Arctic coast.

Seven Negroes To Die At Martinsville, Va. For Attacking Woman

MARTINSVILLE, Va. — (P) — Barring U. S. supreme court intervention, seven Martinsville Negroes will die in Virginia's state penitentiary in May and June for the rape of a white woman.

The executions officially were set for last summer but stays were granted while the seven appealed their convictions to the Virginia supreme court of appeals.

The state's high tribunal last month upheld the convictions, yesterday, Circuit Judge Kennon C. Whittle set new execution dates while counsel for the seven men planned an appeal to the U. S. high court.

Joe Henry Hampton, Frank Hairston, Jr., Booker T. Miller and Howard Lee Hairston are to be electrocuted on May 26. Francis DeSales Grayson, John Clabon Taylor and James Luther Hairston will go to the chair on June 2.

Taft Tells Truman To Try And Wipe Out Washington Treason

WASHINGTON — (P) — Senator Taft (R-Ohio) demanded today that President Truman "eliminate any suspicion of treason" from the administration "if he can."

Taft, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy committee, also accused Mr. Truman of libeling Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) and of prejudging McCarthy's charges of Communism in the state department.

As Taft let fly at the President, the stage was set for former Communist Louis Budenz and Owen Lattimore, Far Eastern affairs specialist and Johns Hopkins professor, to confront each other at a public hearing April 20.

Train Wreck Kills 50

NEW DELHI, India — (P) — Fifty persons were reported killed today and 73 injured when a passenger train jumped the track and crashed into a stream 45 miles south of Bareilly in Uttar Pradesh.

"But now, in the Adirondacks it seems for the first time to have become a fairly stabilized type—a type that has been breeding for several generations. Hunting techniques used against coyotes in the thinly-populated west cannot safely be used in the more heavily settled east."

In the west, the prolific coyote is kept in check by hard-riding ranchers and forest rangers who hunt him down from the air in small planes, chase him to earth with greynoses and fast horses or plant poison pellets in the carcasses of dead animals on which he might feed.

But even if these methods could be used in the Adirondacks, government experts are not sure they would work with the coydog, coyote, coydog or whatever you want to call the cross-breed.

In recent years the animal has been attacking deer, livestock and poultry in increasing numbers in Lewis, Franklin, Essex and St. Lawrence counties, N. Y.

At the request of New York authorities, the service sent a hunter into the Adirondacks to train employees in coping with the new menace. Some of the beasts were killed.

They vary in color from red to brown to white. Some betray a snow ancestry. Others have strong hints of the shepherd or hound. All resemble the coyote more strongly than the dog.

Until recently, coyotes have been unknown in the east, says Pressnall. Parents of the currently-developing species, he said, may have been:

A. Coyotes purchased in the west by eastern tourists as pets and later allowed to escape and mate with eastern dogs.

B. Fugitives from fox hunting clubs. More than one such organization has had a western coyote pup palmed off on it as an eastern fox.

C. Winter-time immigrants from Canada. Coyotes have been seen crossing the St. Lawrence river on ice, Pressnall said.

Ingham Prosecutor Will Buy No More Bonds For Democrats

LANSING — (P) — No more savings bonds will be taken out of the salary of Ingham County Prosecutor Charles R. MacLean, a Republican.

MacLean sent a letter to the county treasurer directing him to discontinue further deductions for a $50 bond a month.

"I feel that by purchasing these bonds we are assisting the Democratic party to carry on the huge deficit spending program which has been their policy for many years," wrote MacLean.

"Those who lend money to the government for the purpose of financing the program are only assisting the government to spend without taxing," MacLean said.

Lake Erie Wind Takes 4 Lives

CLEVELAND — (P) — Grief-shattered parents arranged funerals today for four boys who died in a raft on Lake Erie.

And a coast guard captain warned other youngsters: "For God's sake have respect for water and wind."

Captain James A. Hirschfield, Great Lakes Coast Guard chief, made the fervent plea for carefulness after one of the coast guard's biggest rescue attempt operations ever made on Lake Erie.

A 16-hour search, started at dusk Monday, ended late yesterday morning when the tiny clad bodies of four Euclid Boy Scouts, blue from cold, were found huddled together in a war-surplus raft.

The victims were William J. Von Hof, 14, Richard Bauer, 14, David Lee Hahn, 13, and Roland Reimer, 13.

The raft was found about 25

W. C. Carle, Lake county coroner, estimated the boys died around 4 a. m. from exposure.

may have an answer to the Sen. Mc Carthy-Owen Lattimore dispute, says he could name 400 "concealed" Communists in the United States.

"But I won't do it," he said here yesterday, "I can't afford libel suits."

The former managing editor of the Communist Daily Worker was in Midland for a lecture. While here, he was notified of a subpoena to appear before a Senate sub-committee investigating Mc Carthy's charge that Lattimore is a Soviet agent.

Budenz, named as Mc Carthy's "mystery witness," would not comment on the dispute. But he did say that he had never met, talked with, or given documents to Mc Carthy.

"In justice to the investigating committee," he said, "I cannot say anything further."

Mc Carthy has indicated that he hopes Budenz's sworn testimony will show the committee that Lattimore is a Communist. Testimony given before such a group cannot be used as a basis for libel charges.

Budenz, who renounced Communism and is now a professor of economics at Fordham University in New York, told a press conference that the whole policy of the Communist party in the United States is to place its adherents in positions of importance.

"One Alger Hiss in the state department," he declared, "is worth several hundred thousand other Americans."

The 400 "concealed Communists," Budenz said, are in various organizations that control public opinion and policy. Such persons, he said, are given exemptions from Communist party membership.

Budenz later addressed a capacity audience of 1,200 persons in the Midland high school.

Budenz's lecture tour takes him to Pontiac, Traverse City and Newberry before he appears in Washington next Thursday.
